BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Full Program for Scout Week Anniversary and Activities of Norumbega Council

Twelve years ago, on February 8, the Boy Scout movement was organized into an organization with power and possibilities. From a few scouts and a few troops it has grown until today there are nearly 500,000 scouts and thousands of troops.

Each year Scout Week is a time of advancement; Scouts wear their uniforms throughout the week, and in general a full program is arranged as a celebration. The following is the celebration program of Norumbega Council:

Wednesday, 8—Store windows acquired for the week will be decorated by scouts in each community.

7:30 P. M.—Scout demonstration and rally in Hosmer School, by Watertown scouts for Watertown people. The public is invited. Scouts will report at 7:15.

Thursday, 9—Final swimming meet to be held at Y. M. C. A. pool, Newton, at 7 o'clock sharp. Entries to be in by Wednesday, 8th.

Friday, 10—Scout rally and demonstration to be held at High School Gymnasium, Newtonville, at 7:30 sharp. Troop stunts, troop drill competition, troop sports. A general Scout good time. Award of swimming trophies to troops and Scouts. Ceremony of anniversary week.

Saturday, 11—All-day hike to the "Ohio Region"—Norumbega Council Winter Camp. Leave for camp any time. Needham car leaves Newtonville about five and 25 after the hour.

Sunday, 12—Boy Scout church parades—Weston, Wellesley, Watertown and Newton. (Announcements next week.)

Monday, 13—Scout officers' regular monthly meeting and banquet. Guest of Rev. James P. Haney, Newton Centre. Scout good turns.

Tuesday, 14—Special day for Scout good turns. Each Scout in the Council will seek to do three or more good turns.

The Scout motto is: "BE PREPARED."

The second annual swimming meet of the Boy Scouts under Norumbega Council was held last week, Thursday evening, at the pool of the Y. M. C. A. Enthusiasm ran high throughout the meet, and at the conclusion every one present felt that the Scouts of Norumbega were receiving a vital training in sportsmanship and swimming which was extremely valuable. The hero of the evening was Monroe Soch of Troop 11, Newton Corner, who easily won the diving contest, and accomplished the difficult task of picking up from the bottom of the pool ten tin plates scattered here and there, in one dive. Scout Lloyd Hazen of Troop 4 led a scout cheer in his honor.

The results of the meet were as follows: Relay race—First, Troop 4, Newton Highlands; second, Troop 4, Carver, Norton, Patterson; second, Troop 2, Wellesley; Scouts Treadwell, Atkinson, Hamburger, Bianchi; third, Troop 11, Newton; Scouts Ferrell, Morris, Holman, Westgate.

Diving—First, Soch Troop 11, Newton; second, Scout Turner, Troop 5, Newton Centre; third, Scout Leon, Troop 2, Watertown.

Sixty Ft. Dash—Scout Wilkerson, Troop 4, Newton Highlands; second, Scout Murther, Troop 5, Newton Centre; third, Scout Garland, Troop 2, Watertown.

120 Ft. Swim—First, Scout Hazen, Troop 4, Newton Highlands; second, Alanson Harper, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; third, Scout Westgate, Troop 6, Nonantum.

Breast Stroke—First, Nickerson, Troop 6, Watertown; second, Richardson, Troop 11, Newton; third, Scout P. R. Harper, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills.

Back Stroke—First, Ed Atkinson, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; second, Patterson, Troop 4, Newton Highlands; third, Nuell, Troop 6, Watertown.

Plunge—First, Norton, Troop 4, Newton Highlands; second, Amidon, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; third, Richardson, Troop 11, Newton.

Swim, 180 feet—First, Hazen, Troop 4, Newton Highlands; second, Kimball, Troop 1, Newtonville; third, Westgate, Troop 6, Nonantum.

Diving for plates—First, Monroe Soch, Troop 11, Newton; second and third places divided between Greaves of Troop 6, Nonantum, and Patterson, Troop 4, Newton Highlands.

The final tally of points gave Troop 4, Newton Highlands, 31 points; Troop 2, Wellesley, 15 points, and Troop 11, Newton, 14 points.

The next swimming meet, the final meet of the season, will be held during Scout Week, on Thursday, February 9, at 7 o'clock sharp.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS

At the union church meeting held last Friday evening in the Elliot Church, to hear reports of the religious census on the preceding Sunday, a large number were present. Rev. C. W. Brashares presided. Mr. R. O. Walter of the Norumbega District, and Mrs. Allen Chamberlain, director of the survey, spoke. Ministers of all the churches expressed themselves as well pleased with the spirit of the canvass and the results. The value of bringing together in a church task the workers of different Protestant denominations, and thus establishing better understanding, was emphasized by all.

The returning visitors came back last Sunday with enthusiasm, reporting cordial receptions and pleasant and interesting experiences. In some cases new families which had recently come to Newton were visited and were greatly pleased to find a cordial welcome extended to them by the members of Newton churches. Many questions about the church work were asked and answered. Much information of value to ministers and workers was brought back by visitors. Excellent results of Sunday school work were observed in many cases.

One very significant feature of the work was pointed out by Dr. MacLure, who said he was impressed by the fact that practically all people expressed some sort of church preference. Some may not have attended church for a long time, but almost none wish to put themselves on record as without any use for religion.

Over 2,000 families were visited within the district covered by this canvass, and between 11,000 and 12,000 persons were registered on the cards. A little more than half were found to be of Protestant preference, the others Catholic or Jewish. About 140 new families, including some 400 individuals not known to any of the ministers, were reported. In these families are many children and young people who should be having the benefits of church school attendance.

At the close of the evening Dr. Person pointed out that the results and benefits are deeper than can be measured in figures. The churches have now definitely placed themselves at the disposal of all the people and have invited all to avail themselves of the privileges of church membership.

The necessity of follow-up work was emphasized by many. Each church has already made plans for this, and all churches unite in the plan for making February 12th the "Go to Church Sunday" in Newton Corner. A special invitation is extended to all who have not previously attended, but who have expressed a church preference during the canvass.

NEWTONVILLE FORUM

The second meeting of Community Forum for 1922 will be held at 4 P. M., Sunday, February 12th, at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. Dr. Tehvi Hsieh will speak on "China's Aspirations at the Washington Conference."

Dr. Hsieh is known as the "Roosevelt of China" and the "Gompers of Cathay." He is an intensely interesting speaker, and is giving a large part of his time and energy to enlightening other countries about China.

The Newton Choral Society will render special numbers. The public at large is cordially invited to all meetings of the Newtonville Community Forum.

STREET CAR CHANGES

Representatives of the city and the state conferred on Tuesday with General Manager Dana of the Boston Elevated in regard to the proposed change in service and a loop at Braves Field. The Company wishes to run two or three-car trains from Lechmere Square, East Cambridge to Braves Field, with a loop at each end, and to discontinue the present Park St. loop service for its Newton-Watertown and Lake street cars, thus requiring all passengers west of Braves Field, to make a transfer at that point going in or coming out of Boston. This plan will lessen the congestion now experienced at the Park street subway during the rush hours of the day, as passengers will not need to look for particular cars, but can take any train and make a transfer at Braves Field. The Company now handles 20,000 people an hour at Park street during the rush period and this plan will reduce that number to 5,000 at a similar period at Braves Field. Something like 15,000 each way in the Newton-Watertown line and 12,000 on the Lake street line will be affected, or about 50,000 will have to make the proposed transfer. In return for this inconvenience, the Company will run 734 cars from Braves Field to Boston, where it now runs but 559 cars—will run its cars from Braves Field westerly on more regular schedules than is now possible, will give 9000 more seats during the day and 550 more seats during the rush hour than is now possible, and expects to maintain a three-minute service from East Cambridge to Braves Field all day and a five-minute service out and in to Braves Field, westerly.

Under this plan Newton passengers going beyond Park street will not have to change as at present, and as these trains will run on the north side of the present Park street subway, there will be a distinct separation of this traffic from that going to the surface at Arlington street.

Mr. Dana agreed that it was possible to run a thru car from Park street loop to run a thru car from Park street, as at present, running express as far as Braves field, but did not believe the Company had the equipment necessary to give that service as well as what would be required to operate the Braves Field loop.

To the objection that there would be congestion on the days the Braves played base ball, Mr. Dana pointed out that the bulk of regular travel at that time would be westerly, while the bulk of the ball crowd would want to go easterly, and that in any event the possible congestion would last for about 20 minutes only.

The Company proposes a ten cent fare in the subway, and a five cent fare to and from Braves Field westerly. The latter change will take effect next Monday, Feb. 6th, and will consist of a ten cent fare paid for an east bound ride as far as Braves Field and a coupon good for a free ride back if used within 8 days.

Emerson School

Miss Dow's lecture on Alaska given last Friday to both divisions of Grade 6 was greatly enjoyed.

A group of students from Dana Hall, Wellesley, entertained the Americanization class with a musical program last Thursday evening in the Kindergarten room. Light refreshments were served.

COMMUNITY ENTERPRISE

Every citizen of Newton should be interested in the welfare of all parts of the city. There are 2000 children within a radius of a few hundred yards of Adams street, partly in Nonantum and partly in Newtonville. They have no playground except the public highway, which is dangerous.

The people of this district have long realized the need of a clean, green, shady community playground near their homes, where children can play and absorb health and happiness, and learn true American sportsmanship under careful supervision. The mothers need a handy place for fresh air and rest, and for enjoying the play of their children.

Proof of how greatly this playground is needed is in the fact that over 200 people in the immediate neighborhood have contributed $100 in sums of 25 cents to $150.00. This will foster social development for the mutual interest of the whole neighborhood, and emulate the idea of the old New England settlers of establishing a Common in every village.

Options have already been secured for 90,239 square feet of land situated on Hawthorne street, which will cost about $5500. If the land is not secured now it may be impossible to secure it at a later date without the destruction of houses and streets.

A committee composed of Joseph B. Jamieson, chairman; John Finelli, secretary; Frank L. Richardson, Treasurer; Charles D. Kepner, Arthur W. Hollis, Ernest Hermann, has been formed to secure this community playground, and the committee feels assured that there are men and women in all parts of Newton who will be glad to help in such a worthy cause. The movement has the unqualified approval of the Playground Commissioner. To complete the plans $4000 is needed. We ask your co-operation. No subscription is too small. Every contribution is a vote for the playground.

LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY

The millions of readers of Frances Hodgson Burnett's world-loved novel, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," will be delighted to know that Mary Pickford, in reproducing the story for the screen has preserved all its quaintness and charm, and has been especially faithful to the costumes and manners of the period depicted so vividly by the author.

As a vehicle for the lovely Mary, this story is ideal, running as it does the entire gamut of emotional drama, pathos, and riotous comedy. It gives her the greatest opportunity she ever has had for the display of that brilliant genius which has so endeared her to the hearts of Mr. World and his Wife. In this play, she has a chance to let her public see her as a mature woman and also as a boy of seven. In the world of dramatic art what could be more difficult? Not only in the same play but in the same scenes, will this greatest of all screen artists be seen in these two difficult roles.

Miss Pickford will be seen in this picture at the Newton Opera House at 10 A. M. on Saturday, February 11th, the performance being given under the auspices of the Girl Scouts of this city.

NEWTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Holds an Interesting Meeting and Several Important Subjects are Fully Discussed

One of the largest and best meetings of its kind ever held in this city was the meeting on Tuesday evening at the Newton Club, Newtonville, of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. Thru the energy and efforts of the new secretary, Mr. C. C. Mowry and the reorganization committee, an interesting program was presented and held the close attention of over 100 men for two hours.

An excellent supper was served at 6:30 and a short business meeting followed at which 39 new members were admitted, a legislative committee appointed consisting of Philip Nichols, Arthur W. Blakemore and Albert M. Lyon and the secretary was authorized to represent the Chamber in opposing the repeal of the Daylight saving law. The reorganization committee then took charge of the program, with Mr. Rupert C. Thompson as chairman, an excellent choice for a presiding officer.

Alderman George V. Phipps opened a discussion on the proposed zoning ordinance, saying in part that the subject was so new and so big that the committee welcomed all suggestions and criticisms. The object of the ordinance is to keep Newton a residential city and to keep public garages and apartment houses away from single residences. Five districts are proposed, single residence, general residence, business, commercial and industrial. The ordinance does not affect anything now in use, no matter what district it may be in, and will affect only new buildings. The committee has prepared its ordinance, and is now concerned mostly on the establishment of the district lines in each village and for that purpose will hold village meetings where the local situation can be fully explained. Mr. Phipps thought the Chamber might be of great help in this direction, and after some discussion from the floor, the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of one from each village.

Mr. Henry D. Lloyd opened up the improvement of Nonantum square showing how the completion of boulevard work in Boston created a direct and easy route from Newton to Boston, and predicted that this would be the most heavily used thoroughfare out of Boston. Mr. Lloyd laughed at the idea of any congestion in Nonantum square and said that New England didn't know what a traffic jam really was. He characterized Nonantum square as a crossroads, and not a square and a place where the street cars cut up traffic lanes so as to make the square inadequate for automobile use. He did not believe in the by-pass method of avoiding the difficulty and believed that the removal of the Waltham cars from the square would depreciate real estate values. He then presented a plan to take all the land between the square and the railroad tracks, the removal of all the present buildings including the fire station, building a 20-foot passageway along the railroad and the construction of a block of high grade buildings north of this passageway, giving stores of 60 feet in depth. The remaining land he would throw into the square, thus allowing the Elevated tracks to be moved southerly, the Waltham car tracks to come into the area in an almost direct line from Washington street, and an island in the centre where both Elevated and Waltham cars could land passengers in safety. The assessed value of the land taken, doubled as is the custom, amounted to $273,000, and Mr. Lloyd figured that the land for building could be sold for $150,000 and betterment assessments levied on the square property of $75,000 making a net cost to the city of about $155,000, the interest of which would be met from the taxes on the increased values in the square.

Mr. A. C. Bang, in the limited time given him by the chairman, presented a plan to stop the Waltham cars in front of the bank where he said "it won't cost you a cent."

A committee of five was authorized to consider the matter of Nonantum square.

City Solicitor Bartlett then gave a brief summary of the Elevated situation with regard to Braves Field. Mr. Bartlett was of the opinion that little could be done, as the Elevated Company had received its permit and had made leases and done some construction and he did not believe that the movement to revoke the permit by the Public Utilities Commission would succeed. The plan proposed is given in another column of the GRAPHIC. The subject was discussed more generally than any other and finally disposed of by the passage of a resolution expressing the opinion of the Chamber that the proposed change would affect thousands of street railway patrons of Newton and that the Company should be required to run thru car service from Park street to Watertown and to Lake street, (practically as at present) during the rush hours from 4 to 6 P. M., the same to be in addition to the service furnished by the Braves Field loop.

Mr. George J. Martin opened a discussion on the necessity of some form of credit bureau for the business men of the city and believed that a great deal of money was lost each year by "frozen credits."

The city government was requested to petition Senator Lodge to call a meeting of representatives of the municipalities in Greater Boston in regard to the proposed reconditioning of the Leveatham.

There was also some discussion of delays in the parcel post service. Mr. John T. Burns was given a rising vote of thanks for his work as president of the Chamber.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The following new members joined the society at this week's rehearsal: Miss Margaret B. Johnston, Mrs. Everett S. Jones, West Newton; Mrs. D. M. Goodrich, Mrs. R. T. Laffie, Mrs. F. S. Friend, Newton.

The string section of the orchestra was reported as completed, except that two more cellos are needed. Oboe, bassoon, trombone, flute, and French horn are also desired. Rehearsals for chorus each Tuesday night at 7:30 at Central Church, Newtonville. Orchestra rehearsals begin about February 20.

NEWTON WAR MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Newton War Mothers' Association was organized at a meeting held this week at the home of Mrs. F. N. Nathan of Newton Centre. Mrs. William Wellman was elected president and Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, secretary. Mrs. Diney, president of the American War Mothers' Association, of which this Newton organization is a branch, made an address. Any mother whose son or daughter was in uniform during the war is eligible to membership, and such are urged to communicate with Mrs. Boyden, as it is impossible to get track of everyone.

Parents who have boys that won't work are going to be surprised and grieved some day to find that they have men that won't work.

MONDAY EVENING CLUB

The Monday Evening Club met at the residence of D. Fletcher Barber last Monday evening, with an unusually large attendance. Nearly every member was present except those who are fortunate enough to be travelling in "sunny climes."

The five-minute discussions were varied, interesting and instructive. In order to get through on time, the chairman, Dr. Marcey, held the members pretty closely to the time limit, so we were able to hear from everyone present.

On account of Mr. Jamieson being away, who was to have had the paper, Denney B. Goode spoke on the work that the Boston Chamber of Commerce is doing in bringing tourists to Boston and New England during the fall, winter and early spring months, so as to make a more continuous business than has heretofore existed.

The finest hotels in the country are all equipped to serve the most exacting patrons, and it only needs a little stimulus to make this business a very large one, and almost continuous instead of for a couple of months.

This year the act of the Chamber in creating a winter sports event was very enthusiastically received by the members, so that the party of two hundred and fifty who went to the mountains this month had a very enjoyable time.

The speaker called attention to the new idea that prevails, that to get the most out of life, we must and we are taking more time for rest and recreation than formerly. Nature has provided a playground here in New England that cannot be surpassed anywhere. It invites the whole country to its unexcelled attractions, and without doubt, the part that the Boston Chamber of Commerce has taken this year will stimulate other organizations and individuals, until before long we shall have a very large and profitable business.

The speaker also referred to the fact that tourists affect nearly every industry, either directly or indirectly, through their purchases, sometimes for souvenirs, sometimes for gifts for others at home, and reminders of their trips. This, he thought, was not always considered in the consideration of the general problem.

NEWTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK

A meeting of the shareholders of the Newton Co-operative Bank will be held on Tuesday the seventh day of February at 8 o'clock P.M. at the Banking rooms of the corporation, 299 Walnut street, Newtonville, for the purpose of nominating a president, vice-president, clerk, treasurer, and nine directors, to be elected at the Annual Meeting the first Tuesday of March next.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

On Monday evening, February 6th, in the Assembly Hall of the Newton Y. M. C. A., Mr. H. N. Rasely will give a lecture on Sales Letters for 1922. Mr. Rasely was formerly correspondence supervisor of the Norton Company, secretary Better Letters Association, president of the Office Managers' Association, and is now director of Educational Guidance, Northeastern College.

Those who attend will be given the opportunity to ask any question they may wish—how much it costs to write one letter—what kind of a letter to write to a dissatisfied customer—what to say to a customer who has ordered goods on an overdue account—how to apply for a position in your own correspondence problems. He has helped thousands with their letter work, from presidents of large corporations to correspondents just beginning.

Mr. Rasely is a powerful speaker. He makes letters talk. He writes the personal, natural, persuasive, human sort of letters which make people do things for him.

The Fellowship Club will meet as usual on Monday evening, February 6th. Supper will be served at 6.30, after which there will be given a concert on the Edison phonograph. Mr. J. Edgar Birdsell of the Edison Shop, Boston, will be in charge. After the concert the club will adjourn to hear a talk on Better Business Letters by J. N. Rasely.

A class in Better Business Letters and Business English will begin at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, February 16th. This class will be conducted by Mr. Turner F. Gamar, assistant dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, Northeastern College.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. BOYS' DIVISION NOTES

The January pool tournament was held for the boys of the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday afternoon. Some very keen competition was witnessed. The names of the boys were put in a hat and matched as drawn. Some boys were lucky in drawing, others very unlucky. John McDonald drew Abbott Gotshall, which brought two of the strongest players together in the trials. McDonald was defeated, but had he drawn someone else not quite as clever as Gotshall he might have come through. Never mind, Mac, better luck next time.

The boys played twenty-five point games. The first round trials were as follows: Gordon Kenison 25, Sherman Coleman 17, John Coffey 25, Melvin Becker 10, Abbott Gotshall 25, Mike McDonald 10, Fred Becker 25, Lawson Gasset 12, Robert Lucas 25, Paul James 12, Campbell 25, Geo. Van Burskirk 9.

The names of the winners of the trials were also put in a hat and matched as drawn, which resulted in the following boys being matched: John Coffey 25, Paul Campbell 19, Abbott Gotshall 25, Robert Lucas 14, Fred Becker 25, Fred Becker 19, John Coffey 25, Abbott Gotshall 14. That gave John Coffey first prize, Abbott Gotshall second, and Fred Becker third. The medals were gold, silver and bronze, respectively.

Fourth, fifth and sixth places went to Gordon Kenison, Paul Campbell and Robert Lucas in the order named. The prizes for these boys were ribbons suitably inscribed for the occasion.

ANNUAL MEETING

At the annual meeting of the Newton Christian Science Church, recently held in Players' Hall, the reports of officers and committees showed a gratifying progress in the various activities of the church, and a widening community interest in the Christian Science movement. This being the occasion for elections, the two former readers, Mr. Harry I. Hunt and Mr. William D. Harvey, having served the allotted three years, step back into the ranks, carrying with them the deep regard and affection of all who have followed the church, and leaving behind them a high standard of service.

Of them it could be said in the words of the Prophet Nehemiah: "So they read in the book, in the law of God, distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading."

The new readers and officers elected are: First reader, Mr. Edwin C. Johnson of Newton Highlands; second reader, Mrs. William F. Perrin of Newtonville. Executive Board of seven: Mr. Gardner I. Jones, chairman, and Mr. Theodore P. Grant, Mr. Louis C. Smith, Mr. Edward H. Keach, Mrs. Frank H. Fittz, Miss Helen D. Barker, Miss Nellie E. Robinson. Clerk, Mrs. William C. Holbrook; treasurer, Mr. Ralph F. Alvord; superintendent of Sunday School, Miss Florence Maynard; librarian of reading room, Mrs. Florence I. Gold.

The new readers assume their duties on the first Sunday in February.

DEATH OF MR. WHITE

Daniel W. White, who was long connected with the old-time firm of Solomon S. Sleeper, dealers in groceries at wholesale, in Market street, Boston, died at his home, 21 Bacon place, Newton Upper Falls, Monday, in his seventy-fifth year.

Mr. White retired from business more than fifteen years ago and had been an invalid for the past five years. He was born in London, England, on Oct. 18, 1847, a son of Daniel W. and Ellen (Cole) White, and came to the United States when he was about twenty years of age.

Mr. White was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Newton Highlands. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Hannah (Newton) White, and four children, John W. White, who is a business man of Newton; Daniel A. White, who is comptroller of accounts of the city of Newton; Thomas W. White, supervisor of the administration for the Commonwealth at the State House, and a daughter, Mrs. Paul D. Howard, who resides in Clinton.

Services were held at his late residence Thursday, Rev. Theodore S. Ludlow of St. Paul's Church, officiating, and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The Woman's Association of Central Church had its all-day meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 1st. Mrs. B. A. Robinson was in charge of the luncheon. The president, Mrs. Decatur, spoke of sending greetings to absent members, including Mrs. Reuben Kimball and Mrs. Henry Ross, who are in the South; the Misses Sherman and Mrs. Price, in California; Mrs. G. F. Kimball, in Honolulu. Mention was made of the recent decoration given Miss Louise Sherman for humanitarian service in the Near East, and of the return of Mrs. Rose from Cleveland, where she has spent a year assisting at the Schanfler School.

Rev. Doremus Souder, D.D., spoke on "The Prominence of Japan in Relation to World Peace." He reviewed Japan's phenomenal development from the humbling of China in 1894 when she obtained control of Formosa, to the World War, which left her happy in her successes. Senator Lodge deserves well of history for his refusal to ratify the Versailles treaty.

The Disarmament conference is the most important event in Japan's history since the opening of her ports by Perry and she occupies the most prominent position in this conference. The Shantung situation might become the plague spot of the world and it might be likened to a TNT explosive in its possibility of destruction. We should be firm in our demand for a just settlement and we will have the co-operation of Japanese democracy which is ready to leave China and not sympathize with the militarist ruling class. Let us be friendly and avoid race discrimination. Dr. Scudder was in favor of a pacific policy, the withdrawal of troops from Hawaii and a relation with Japan similar to that existing with Canada. He urged the sending of more missionaries who should win this people through the spirit of love.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Stearns School

The school hockey team was defeated by the Bigelow seven Thursday afternoon, on Bulbough's Pond, by the score of 3-0. Stearns played a hard game throughout but was not able to score. It was a well earned victory for Bigelow. Stearns played excellently on the defense, but lacked scoring "pep" on the offense. Butler, at goal, made many clever stops, and Rufo played brilliantly in the forward line. The Stearns junior team was more fortunate, defeating the Bigelow juniors by the score of 3-1. The splendid work of "Al" Young and "Gil" Champagne in the forward line for Stearns stood out prominently. Young scoring two goals and Champagne the other. George Couston and Al Boudreau were very good too on the defense.

The debate Friday by members of the eighth grade, "Resolved, that a compulsory day school law for children up to 16 years of age should be enacted" was won by the affirmative side. The leader of the affirmative side was Lillian White, assisted by Bertha Greenwald, John Rufo, Girard Mazzola, Frances Bacari. Negative side, leader, George Karcher, assisted by Angelina Bellefatto, Joseph Binks, Helen Beltrami, Pasquale Mazzola. Miss Stoddard acted as judge.

The next debate by George Terrio and "Gil" Champagne in the forward line for Stearns stood out prominently. Young scoring two goals and Champagne the other. George Couston and Al Boudreau were very good too on the defense.

The debate Friday by members of the eighth grade, "Resolved, that a compulsory day school law for children up to 16 years of age should be enacted" was won by the affirmative side. The leader of the affirmative side was Lillian White, assisted by Bertha Greenwald, John Rufo, Girard Mazzola, Frances Bacari. Negative side, leader, George Karcher, assisted by Angelina Bellefatto, Joseph Binks, Helen Beltrami, Pasquale Mazzola. Miss Stoddard acted as judge.

The weekly assembly of the four upper grades was held on Wednesday, and ably conducted by George Terrio of Grade VIII. Added to the usual program, papers were read on "Theodore Roosevelt" by Margaret Boudreau, Grade VIII; "William L. Douglas" by Estelle Cyr, Grade VII, and "Ivan, the Russian Immigrant," by Mildred Danckert, Grade VI. The school orchestra very acceptably rendered operatic strains arranged by Julius Seredy. The program ended with remarks by Mr. Bigelow.

Horace Mann

A few days ago grade eight took up the study of the "Wireless Operator" for their vocational educational work. Philip Ahern, one of the pupils of the room, brought in a wireless outfit. He showed the class how to operate the wireless and told very many interesting things about it.

A great deal of credit should be given to the coach of the Horace Mann-Clafin hockey team, who has given much valuable time to have the school win the championship of the grammar schools of Newton.

At the first game with the Stearns School the score was 1-0. The second game, played with the Pierce School, the score was 4-1.

On February 2nd, the third game of the year will be played with the Bigelow School. This game will decide the championship of the Newton schools.

A teacher from the West Newton Music School is going to form an orchestra in the Horace Mann School. Everyone that has some knowledge of an instrument may take lessons. The lessons will be given to those who are in the orchestra only.

An automatic receiving teller has been installed in the building. It is a very simple means of saving.

Mason

Professor Bailey loaned his beautifully colored slides of Norway to the fourth grades to use in connection with their work on the Viking Tales. Several of the parents of the fourth grade pupils have made drawings illustrating the Viking Tales to be used in the lantern.

The fifth grades have been enjoying a series of stereoscopic lectures of western life. Koichi Oshima, from Miss Swallow's room, showed pictures of Japan, giving a clear idea of his home country.

Miss Clark's pupils furnished an interesting entertainment, consisting of music and recitations.

Much interest has been shown in a pennant which appeared one morning on the door of room 9. It consists of three green C's and five clovers, on a white felt background. The three C's stand for Clever Clover Club, and the pennant was designed and made by a committee chosen from the club.

Clever Clover Club Meeting

At the last meeting of the Clever Clover Club, Katherine Lotz read a story called "Hold Up Your Head"; Sally Collins, Catherine McDonald and Edward Wright each read a short poem; Mary Wright played a violin solo, and John Bell gave a short talk on the changes going on in the Chinese language. He also showed us illustrations of the new language and predicted that it would take a long time before this language will be established, as each province now has its own language.

Tuesday, the Mason hockey team played a fast and hard game at Bulbough's Pond against the Pierce team. Through three regular periods and one extra ten-minute period neither side scored. The game will be played off later.

Wireless Club Meeting
At the Wireless Club meeting, Saturday night, Albert Axman, one of the members, gave a very interesting and instructive talk which brought forth fine response on the question and discussion period which followed. He took for his subject, "Beginning a Wireless," and particularly explained a good part first hand, for he is still at work making his own wireless set.

Burr School

The Burr School defeated the Waban team in hockey by a score of 2-1 last week. On Tuesday Burr was defeated by the Hyde School by a score of 1-0.

The eighth grades debated in their vocational guidance class the comparative advantages of farming and engineering. Those arguing in favor of the engineer won.

One of the eighth grades is very proud that as a class they are 100 per cent. in weight on the health chart.

One of the seventh grades, however, has made the greatest gain last month, going from 94 per cent. to 98 per cent.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

Inter-class hockey continues to be interesting sport for the boys in the upper grades. On Thursday of last week the team of Grade 7 won a game from Grade 6 by the score of 3 to 1. These teams are now tied, each team having won one game. On Friday afternoon the team of Grade 8 defeated Grade 7 by a score of 10 to 1.

Miss Grace G. Hunt, teacher of Grade 1, resumed on Thursday the duties of her position. She has been absent on account of illness since before Christmas. Mrs. W. A. Marcy has had charge of the class during this interval.

Wendell Boston of the graduating class has completed the making of a suitable pedestal for the beautiful nautilus shell given to the school by the late Mrs. Darius Cobb. The work was done at the manual training rooms, and the shell thus mounted is on exhibition in the eighth grade room.

A group of pupils from Miss Kelly's class gave a health selection on the care of the teeth, in the hall on Monday morning. The school is making a drive for clean and sound teeth. More pupils are going to the dental clinic. A supply of tooth brushes and paste is on hand, and pupils are providing themselves very generally with these necessities. Our aim is brush and paste for every pupil, coupled with daily use of the same. Records are kept showing the growth of the habit of daily care.

A variety of projects is in process of construction in several classes. Mrs. Oakes' class is making a farm. Miss Dill's the furnishings of a house made of paper, and the office of the real estate agent; Miss Jones', a doll house; Miss Nickelson's, the furnishings of a doll's bed and the care of the same, together with the sleeping doll.

Lasell

Mrs. Knight, of the Municipal League of Boston, gave a very interesting talk before the class in sociology, on Friday morning.

Mrs. Lucy Ames Meade is to be the speaker before the school on Saturday morning, this being the last lecture of the series she has been giving at Lasell.

Japanese lanterns and hurdy-gurdy music are adding to the festivity of the ice carnival which is being held tonight on the campus back of the senior houses. In addition to the out-of-door sports there is to be dancing in Gardner barn.

Miss Martha Ransome is the guest of her sister, Mrs. William Wagner, at Woodland Park.

Miss Lillian M. Packard was entertained at dinner by Mrs. McDonald on Monday evening.

Vespers on Sunday will be a campfire gathering, when Mr. George Grimm, a Harvard law man, is to be the speaker.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Classical High School is planning a prize speaking contest to take place on Wednesday, March 22nd. The candidates are now trying out for a place in this event. The Debating Club announces $50 in prizes.

For the remaining part of the year, when there is no literary entertainment for the Technical High School freshmen, there will be community singing under the direction of Mr. Harrington.

At the meeting of the Junior High School class on Friday afternoon, Jan. 27, Dr. Hosie of Chicago spoke at some length and most interestingly on "The Teaching of English in the Junior High School."

The Sophomore class of the Classical High School gave a very good dance in the "Gym" on Friday, Jan. 27, with Wiggins' Orchestra as the music.

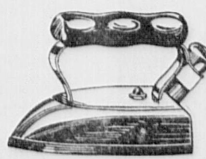

On Jan. 24, the girls' interclass basketball games took place in the gymnasium.

The Classical High School Freshmen will have their first prize speaking contest on Wednesday, June 7th.

Each section will have one speaker chosen by the pupils, and not by the teacher.

The boys and girls in the Community Civics classes are working hard to improve the appearance of the school building. So far they have washed all the seats in the Assembly Hall and cleaned the brass plates on the memorial bookcases in the Technical High School library.

On Monday, Jan. 30, Miss Caroline Doonan of the Technical High School gave a talk on "The Teaching of the Short Story" to a group of teachers in the Classical High.

Miss Irene Haworth of the English department in the Dedham High School will take Mrs. Annie Pepper Varney's place in the Classical High School. Mrs. Varney has resigned to teach English in a private school in Brookline.

Trials for the Newton-Brookline debate have begun in the Classical High School. As there are several of last year's debating team, this school has a very promising outlook. The Vocational School Alumni gave a play and dance on Friday evening, Jan. 27.

CAR WANTED

If anyone has a second-hand Ford that they are contemplating exchanging for another car it would be conferring a great benefit on the secretary of the Norumbega District S. S. Association if they would loan it or give it for that service. Her work takes her all over the district, comprising Waltham, Watertown, Needham, Weston and the Newtons, and a car is almost a necessity. Of course a new small car would be much more preferable. Think it over and aid this estimable cause. Confer with Charles A. Haskell, treasurer. Newton North 849-W.

BRAE-BURN COUNTRY CLUB

On Friday, February 10, there will be a Fancy Dress Carnival at the Brae-Burn Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripley L. Dana, of Newton Centre, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Bridges gave a dance at the Brae-Burn Club on Wednesday. About 175 were present. Lowe's orchestra furnished the music. There were cards for those who did not dance.

EDITORIAL

The proposition to resurface the roadbed of Commonwealth avenue and open it up to automobile traffic is to be commended. The two way traffic on the south side of the avenue is becoming so heavy as to make it almost compulsory to find some way of diverting it in other directions, and the proposed plan is obviously the proper method. The cost of $25,000 or $30,000 can be carried on five of ten-year bonds if that way is deemed desirable, and certainly should be spread over at least three years in order that the taxpayers of 1922 should not have more than their share of the burden.

The community should extend its financial assistance to the efforts now being made to secure a local playground for the children in the vicinity of Adams and Clinton streets. There are hundreds of children in this neighborhood, too small to travel to the nearest playgrounds at Stearns or at Cabot park, and, as a consequence, are playing in the streets. A few dollars invested in a playground in that neighborhood should yield good returns.

While it is difficult to say just what the community could do in the proposed change in the street-car traffic between Lake street and Boston and Newton Corner and Boston, whereby thousands of patrons in this city will be forced to make an open-air transfer at Braves Field, other than meekly acquiesce, possibly the Chamber of Commerce took the right way in expressing its opinion that the Elevated Company should, at least, run through trips, as at present from Park street, during the rush hours. The Elevated officials are firm in the position that the change is absolutely necessary from an operating standpoint and it is possible that when the community adjusts itself to the new conditions, there will be little objection.

We have no doubt but what the people of this city will fully agree on the principles on which zoning is based, and that all real estate owners are in favor of any action which will protect their property from depreciation due to an unusual use made of adjoining property. The principal difficulty as we see it will come when the city government attempts to say just where the lines shall be drawn between the different districts. Give the matter careful thought and be ready to advise the committee when it comes to your neighborhood for suggestions.

During the conference the following national officers were elected: President, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Washington, D. C.; First Vice President, Mrs. James J. Storrow, Boston, Mass.; Second Vice President, Mrs. Arthur O. Choate, New York; Third Vice President, Mrs. Julia Rosenthal, Chicago; Fourth Vice President, Mrs. William F. Simms, Newport, R. I.; Fifth Vice President, Mrs. E. M. Swift, Colorado Springs.

UNITARIAN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Planned for a time when it would not interfere with the regular Sunday services of the churches invited to take part, and with automobiles furnished by parishioners to transport those living at a distance to the meeting, Newton Centre Unitarian Society, Sunday night, will open the fifth "intensive week" of the Unitarian Membership Campaign in the Boston Circle, preliminary to its individual effort to obtain at least a 25 per cent. increase in new members by Easter. The speakers will be Dr. C. E. Park, of the First Church, Boston, and William Hoag, 210 Savin Hill road, Dorchester.

Ministers and parishes invited to take part in the service include: Rev. Chester A. Drummond of Newton, Rev. Paul S. Phalen of West Newton, Rev. Walter S. Swisher of Wellesley Hills, and Rev. William D. Wilkie of South Natick.

That automobiles might be on hand for the meeting, the following letter was sent to Robert G. Howard, 245 Waverley avenue, Newton: John E. Peakes, 69 Erie avenue, Newton Highlands; Frank W. Remick, 34 Exeter street, West Newton; H. M. S. Aiken, Wellesley Hills, all presidents of the Laymen's League's chapters in their respective towns, by Mr. Parker:

"Get the news around—not only among church members, but among all and any who wish to come—especially among those who attend no other church."

"Beg, borrow, commandeer—but don't steal—enough autos and their drivers! Use any method that is in keeping with the fine principles of the League and the Church. The Newton Centre Church is the host only by chance and accident. The real work belongs to all of us."

"Advertisements are being put in the Boston and Newton papers. But the best 'ad' will be THE MEMBERSHIP JITNEY LINE!!! Plan it on the 29th, and start it about 6.30 on February 5—from your church door to this church door—or from the doors of the houses."

In addition, Mr. Parker has sent out 500 postcards announcing the meeting, 100 to members of each of the churches invited to take part in the rally. The Newton Centre Church has a seating capacity of 300, but the committee in charge is prepared to find space for chairs from the Church school room should there be call for them.

The local membership committee working with Mr. Parker in Newton Centre includes: Messrs. Coan, Crosbie, Dalrymple, Kingman, Peakes, Powers, Russ and Studley. The ladies of the committee are: Mrs. Alice J. Melcher, Mrs. Chester Nichols, Mrs. Marshall Stone and Mrs. J. C. S. Taber. The younger people are: Miss Hope Corken, Miss Helen Spring, Philip Darling, Francis Hodgson, Richard Powers.

"This meeting is not being left to 'happenstance,'" says Mr. Parker. "A jitney line for a night is not out of the question; nor is a little business sense in advertising this meeting and sending out cards to all we feel would be interested. We know Unitarians will come. What we want to do is to provide for those outside our church who would be interested to hear Dr. Park and Mr. Hoag. I am making no forecast on how many will be there, but there are 300 seats in our church, and a supply we can bring in on short notice."

"We are not trying to be among the first with a report of a 25 per cent. increase in new members. Instead, we are trying to find spiritual invigoration in our liberal faith in Newton Centre. We are trying to get across the idea that this is a permanent thing, something more than merely adding numbers to our church."

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The week has been rather quiet on Beacon Hill, although the committees are getting down to work and are acting on a number of unimportant bills every day.

The writer has been somewhat criticized by insurance men because he presented a bill on petition of a resident of Newton in regard to the compulsory insurance of automobiles. The presentation of a bill by a member of the Legislature does not mean that the measure is always an advocate of the measure. As a matter of fact, the bill undoubtedly possesses considerable merit, but the petitioner and the petitioner alone is responsible for the bill.

The report of the special committee on county government with relation to the management of the penal institutions is now in print, and has aroused considerable comment. The committee recommends the creation of a Commission of Correction, to have general supervision and management of the inmates of State and county penal institutions; the discontinuance of the present State prison at Charlestown and its transfer to the State Farm at Bridgewater; the abolition of the county training schools and two minor recommendations regarding tuberculosis. The Commission of Correction to consist of a commissioner, with four associate commissioners, of whom one shall always be a county commissioner and one a sheriff. The county organizations have countered this recommendation with one providing for a commission of seven, instead of five, and requiring four of the commissioners to be county officials.

LINCOLN'S CHALLENGE

"The hired laborer of 'yesterday', labors on his own account to-day, and will hire others to labor for him 'tomorrow'."

There is a challenge to YOU in that significant statement of Lincoln's, and just encouragement in the fact that most of to-day's successful bankers, manufacturers, and farmers were "yesterday's" clerks, machinists, and farm hands.

The men who bought the least "yesterday" may buy the most to-day. The men who live on less than they earn to-day and bank the difference, are fitting themselves to fulfill Lincoln's prophecy for "tomorrow."

If you'll put forth that kind of effort, this bank will help YOU become a leader 'tomorrow'."

INSURANCE

Life, Fire and Accident Insurance does not require a man to stunt his life and forego for himself and his family the things that make civilized life worth living. But every prudent and careful man should consider insurance with reference to future contingencies. The cost is but a trifle compared with the protection. Bodily injuries by accident is one of the most frequent causes of distress.

Coffee For Every Taste

Fifty years of retailing direct to the consumer have definitely proved to us that no one kind or brand of Coffee will suit everybody. With this fact in mind we have devoted our energies to the development of the various kinds which we have learned were requisite to the satisfaction of the greatest number of people.

Careful selection, scientific blending and perfect roasting are all reflected in every brand which we carry.

"Federation Topics," the official organ of the Massachusetts State Federation and the successor of the "Bulletin," with the current February issue enters upon its second year. The tasteful cover, bearing the name in Old English and a reproduction of the Federation pin, is a vast improvement over the ornate design of the "Bulletin." Within the form is much the same, though an enlarged number of pages, as that adopted last year, but the whole shows a steady gain in material and make-up over previous publications. While there are still things to be desired, yet taken by and large, it is a creditable production, and one of which the Federation members may well be proud. Club women who are not already readers of the "Topics," are missing the link which connects them with the State and General Federations and brings the consciousness of belonging to a great onward, nation-wide movement. The Press committee of the Federation, whose chairman is the editor of the "Topics," announces a Press luncheon and conference for the end of February, which promises to be of general interest, although "Publicity is to be the theme of each of the speakers. A special feature will be a newspaper exhibit for which correspondents are requested to bring a single page containing current "write-up" plainly marked. A full notice of this will be given in a later issue.

in the cast, including a chorus of sixteen women's voices. The program includes several living pictures, six period dances in costume, a string trio, a reader, and violin, cello, and voice soloists. Besides club members, high school girls and ten children will take part. The performance on Tuesday afternoon is at the regular club meeting. It will be repeated on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the West Newton Music School. Mrs.
Harlan Maynard is in charge of the tickets for this performance.

Tuesday evening, February 7, will be Guest Night for the Auburndale Review Club, which will be held in the Congregational Chapel. To this each member is entitled to invite three guests. The chief entertainment is "Some New England Sketches," by Mrs. Eaton of Worcester.

At the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday morning, February 8, Moustapha Avignon will speak on "Oriental Rugs." Guests may be invited.

Dr. Payson Smith, commissioner of Education, will address the Newton Community Club on Thursday, February 9, on the subject, "Current Problems in Public Education." Dr. Smith, through training and experience, is a master of his subject and an entertaining speaker as well. All members of the club will surely appreciate this opportunity of hearing a State official, who is so much in demand that the club is most fortunate to be able to secure his services.

The Ruud Trio, Miss Louisa C.
Ruud, violinist and contralto; Miss Bertha Ruud, cellist and soprano; and Miss Rose Weissenbach, pianist, will furnish the entertainment at the next meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, February 10th, at Players' Small Hall, Mrs.
John B. Shaw, chairman of the music committee, is in charge of the arrangements.

The Auburndale Woman's Club is offering a cash prize for posters to be used in announcing the club dramatics,
"Her Husband's Wife," which will be presented in Norumbega hall, on Friday and Saturday, February 24 and 25.
P. M. Contestants should consult
Mrs. Herbert Farrier, 35 Rowe street, for particulars concerning conditions, and the posters should be submitted to her before February 14.

Local Happenings

A capacity audience of members and guests gathered in the Hunnewell Club hall last Thursday afternoon for the "fashion show" of the Newton Community Club. Miss Maude Evelyn Bradley, head of the Applied Design department in the Pawtucket (R. I.) High School was the speaker of the afternoon, and around her practical talk were illustrations in the form of an exhibition of beautiful and rare old gowns worn by club members, crayon sketches cleverly drawn by Miss Bradley as she talked, and a real fashion exhibit from four Boston firms worn by living models, each showing a sport costume, a street suit, an afternoon, and an evening gown.

Miss Bradley, in her talk, suggested that gradually the American women are becoming experts in Home Economics. Just as most women know good literature when they read it, so it is equally important that they know certain fundamental principles which govern good dressing. Some are born with this knowledge, but any woman may conquer its simple rules. She dwelt upon three principles, color and its harmonies, correct lines for different forms, and the use of the accession and the use to which a gown is to be put. Miss Bradley outlined the history of the development of clothing, the girdle being the origin from which the modern costume has come, and pointed out the special features for which the different nations have been responsible. Ancient Egypt used beautiful materials with simple lines, waist compression was widely practised by European countries, the Greeks, on the other hand, used simple lines and materials, decorating them with elaborate borders. She distinguished between fashion, which is the whim or fad of the minute, and style, which is always with us. She warned her hearers to avoid what "they" are wearing. She urged them to make a study of the silhouette to be seen on the stage, to study the lines of the what to wear and what not to wear, emphasizing this point by crayon sketches. One of the greatest secrets of good dressing is a knowledge of color and of its fundamental laws, and she suggested that one cannot go far wrong when taking the colors of the different seasons as a guide, spring being a symbol of childhood, summer of youth, autumn of middle life, and winter of old age.

The importance of educating the girls in what is correct was touched upon, and in closing her talk Miss Bradley said that she could not associate in her mind young women of pure, clean, and single minds, with extremely short skirts and almost waistless evening gowns.

The exhibition of old gowns began with the Pilgrim costume of 1620, Mrs.
Stranberg, being the first to promenade down the raised "midway." The others came as follows: 1775, Mrs.
Harry Dexter; 1800, Mrs. Charles L.
Pearson; 1830, Miss Gibbs; 1840, Mrs.
Francis Murdock; 1850, Miss Helen L.
Wells; 1855, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson; 1860, Miss Hattie Henry; 1865, Mrs. C. Sidney Ensign; Miss Edna
Banks; 1870, Miss Dorothy Drake;
1875, Mrs. Mardis E. Gleason; 1900,
Mrs. Elmer Gibbs; 1910, Mrs. Clifton Mason. Three wedding gowns were worn that of 1860, by Miss Clegg; 1880, Miss Meyer; 1890, Miss Nixon.
As these women, one by one, appeared an awkward down the promenade, soft music was played on the piano, familiar airs appropriate to the period.
Each model was announced by pages in costume, Anne Scofield and Baldwin Pearson.

A great deal of work had been put into the preparation of the afternoon by the Home Economics committee, which was in charge, and especially by the chairman, Mrs. C. G. Francis, and the committee is to be congratulated upon having staged one of the most popular events in the club calendar.

A very successful and largely attended bridge and whist party was held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Friday, January 27th, for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund of the West Newton Women's Educational Club.
Many beautiful prizes were awarded and dainty refreshments were served.

The Auburndale Woman's Club met on Tuesday, January 31st, in the Congregational Chapel. Mrs. Florence
Brown, of the West Newton Music School, made an urgent appeal for support of their work, and pupils of the school gave a short, well-rendered recital.

The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. McIlroy Lichliter of Newton-ville. His subject was "Pillars of the House." He spoke of the present lack of harmony and instability in families due to new economic conditions, and the new freedom for women.

Marriage, he said, should be a voluntary partnership of equal minds;
a partnership of mutual respect and understanding, and, as far as possible, comradeship for both. At all times there should be a perpetual attitude of refinement to the home; a cultural use of leisure time, and a real comradeship between parents and children. In this way only could there be a permanence of family life and a restoration of ideals to modern homes.

At the monthly business meeting of the Newton Social Science Club, routine matters were attended to and committee reports submitted. Mrs.
George Merrill, chairman of the Legislative Committee, presented the bills being supported by the State Federation and they received the club's support.

COLLEGE CARNIVAL POSTPONED

The All-College Carnival which was scheduled to be held in Mechanics Hall, Boston, in February under the auspices of seven of the leading women's colleges in the country, has been postponed to the week of Dec. 5 of this year.

SCIENCE OF LAUNDERING

The public laundry is inevitable, necessary, desirable, and has come to stay. With the growth in number and business of the public laundry has come a study by the associations of laundry owners of the science of laundering. The laundry subjects the fabrics to no rougher usage than the home laundress does, and usually gets the fabrics cleaner.

The user injures fabrics so that a trip to the laundry merely serves to bring out the injury. Sticking pins into cloth usually breaks a few fibres, which later give way during washing and start a hole. Catching a shirt waist on a rough place in the corner of a spring, will cause a small tear or weaken a few fibres, which even gentle laundering will break and use as the start of a tear or a hole. Cutting break on the fabric cloth or drawing a knife edge or fork prongs over the fabric cloth and napkins causes almost invisible injuries which the laundry is sure to make visible.

Occasionally the fabric itself is at fault. The thread in one direction may be excellent, but in the "filling" may be paper or other inferior material. Knotted threads in the second quality of fabrics cause trouble as the knots stand out and get rough treatment in use or in ironing, tearing the thread and starting a fault which subsequent laundering accentuates. Cloth may be improperly dyed so that the chemicals used or the process of dyeing weakens the cloth appreciably.
The laundryman causes damage in some cases, but usually the fault is with the fabric or with the use to which it has been subjected.

RED CROSS

Plans are being made by the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross for instruction in swimming and life saving work to be offered to the people of Newton during the summer. It is hoped that a public demonstration of life saving work may be given at an early date at the Y. M. C. A.

All interested in this work will enjoy attending the first annual life saving conference and championships of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps of New England to be held in Boston on February 4th. The Junior and Senior Girls' championships will be held at the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. at 10.30 A. M. The Junior and Senior Boys' championships will be held at the Boston Y. M. C. A. at 8 P. M. The general conference will be in room 12, Rogers Building, 491 Boylston street, at 2.30 P. M., with Commodore W. E. Longfellow of Washington, D. C., and Captain Fred
C. Mills of New York as speakers.

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

78th Annual Report

The annual meeting of the company was held at the home office, 87 Milk Street, Boston, Monday, January 23, 1922, when President Alfred D. Foster presented the 78th report of the directors to the members for the year ending December 31, 1921.

This report showed that the transactions of the past year had been highly satisfactory from every standpoint. The new insurance was $82,072,020. The total amount of insurance in force is $609,415,082, an increase of $48,641,846.

During the year death claims of $4,444,871 were paid, the mortality experience being more favorable than for several years. Fifty-five policies that had been in force an average of 53.3 years became claims, amounting to $109,964; while 75 policies, insuring $249,548, in force less than two years, matured by death. The amount paid policyholders was $19,811,409.

The total income, including premiums and receipts from all sources, was $26,670,339. An increase in assets of $11,621,112 made the figure for that item $116,208,825. The liabilities of the company were $107,067,387, leaving a balance of $9,141,438.

In accordance with the long established custom of the company, the dividends voted by the directors to be set aside for payment during 1922 amounting to $3,900,000, are charged as a liability. This makes a net surplus of $5,241,439, an increase of $2,506,594 over the surplus reported at the close of business in 1920. This more than replaces the reduction in surplus due to the excessive death losses from war and the influenza epidemic.

During the trying experiences of recent years caused by these exceptional conditions, the New England Mutual maintained to policyholders the full dividend scale established in 1912. The judgment and courage shown by this action is now justified in every particular by the outcome last year.

Recognizing the necessity for a broader distribution of responsibility demanded by the growth of the company, the directors elected at their annual meeting, January 24th, three additional vice-presidents: Reginald Foster, Jacob A. Barbey and George W. Smith. Mr. Smith comes back to the company after thirteen years absence as actuary of the Massachusetts Insurance Department, and as an official of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. Mr. Frank T. Partridge was elected secretary.

SOLDIER BURIED

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon for Lieut. William Sinclair Cormack, of 5 Bigelow terrace, at the Elliot Church. Rev. H. Grant Person officiated.

The active pallbearers were members of Delta Upsilon fraternity of Bowdoin College, with which Lieut. Cormack was connected. They were Howard Patrick, John Freese, Raymond Atwood, Austin McCormack, Franklin McCormack and Francis Jacobs.

The honorary pallbearers were Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Dr. Edgar Sewell, Dr. Warren Marston, Arthur Sewell, Maj. Daniel Owen and Dr. Murdock Graham. Many members of the American Legion were present at the services. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Lieut. Cormack joined the military forces of the United States on the day that war was declared by this country against Germany, April 6, 1917. He was on duty in China as a naval lieutenant in the Canton District and was killed in an airplane accident in that city, on November 16, 1920. His body was buried in China, but at the request of his parents it was removed recently and brought to this country.

After graduating from the Boston Latin School, Lieut. Cormack entered Bowdoin College, and was a member of the class of 1917. He was a member of the Delta Epsilon Fraternity, the Bowdoin Club, the Aero Club of America, and the Isaac Parker Lodge of Freemasons.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Cormack, Lieut. Cormack's parents, a brother, Floyd Cormack, and a sister, Miss Inez Cormack, survive.

POULTRY NIGHT

It was Poultry Night at Garden City Grange on last week Tuesday evening, in charge of Samuel Thurber.

Donald Houghton, Jr., in Newton Classical High, breeder of fancy fowl in Waban, gave a most interesting talk on the care and the success he had in raising fancy fowl. The boys in his vicinity have formed a poultry club, of which he is president.

George Findley, sophomore in Waltham High, who is a member of the Boys' Poultry Club, gave his experience in raising poultry for egg production.

Mr. Trusk, who is in charge of all boy and girls' clubs of Middlesex county for the Farm Bureau supported by the Federal government and Middlesex County, gave the grange an insight into the working of this bureau among the boys and girls. He stated there were 270 boy and girl clubs, with 25,000 members, in the county, who are interested in agriculture and poultry. Newton is one of the eight cities and towns of Middlesex county who does not appropriate funds in aid of this work. Garden City Grange has appointed a committee to assist in getting the boys and girls interested in forming clubs to advance the work in agriculture and poultry in the city of Newton. All boys and girls who are interested are asked to communicate with this committee through the secretary, Chas. F. Dow, 10 Church road, Newton. Teachers in all Newton schools are invited to co-operate with the committee by calling to the attention of the scholars the importance of this work.

D. A. R. MEETS

A meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter of the D. A. R. was held on Tuesday, January 31, at the home of Miss Madeline Foster. The speaker was Mrs. Frank B. Hall of Worcester, who is Past Vice-President General, N. S. D. A. R. Her subject was "The Opportunities of the D. A. R. for a Better Quality of Citizenship."

Mrs. Hall gave a most interesting address, in which she mentioned various ways whereby members of the D. A. R. can aid in promoting a better quality of citizenship.

Among the guests present were Miss Isabella Gordon, of Worcester, who is State chairman of credentials; Mrs. Stokely W. Morgan, vice-regent of the Abiah Folger Franklin Chapter, D. A. R., of Nantucket, and Mrs. George W. Hunt, a member of the Molly Aiken Chapter, D. A. R., of Antrim, New Hampshire. Each of these ladies briefly told the history and work of their respective chapters.

Mrs. Walter F. Buck of Brookline was chosen to attend the Continental Congress as a delegate from the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter. Several alternates were also chosen.

Tea was served by the hostess after the business meeting was adjourned.

The next meeting of the chapter is to be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest E. Fewkes, 120 Hyde street, Newton Highlands.

READ FUND

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Professor Charles T. Copeland on Monday night, at the Hunnewell Club.

Many of the professor's former pupils were present, including Mr. Grosvenor Calkins, who introduced him.

Professor Copeland was in his happiest vein, and responded appreciatively. His first reading was an account of the writings of Charles Dickens, read by him on a former occasion before the Harvard Club.

Following this he read selections from David Copperfield and from Kipling, concluding with comments on the part of Mr. Dooley and Mr. Hennessey.

CITY HALL

At the annual meeting this week of the Massachusetts City Clerk's Association, Mr. Frank M. Grant was elected president.

RETIRES AFTER LONG SERVICE

William Ellery Thayer of Auburn-dale, passenger conductor on the Boston & Albany Railroad, retired from service at the close of business Wednesday, having reached the age of seventy. Mr. Thayer was born in Bellingham on Jan. 20, 1852, and entered the employ of the Boston & Albany as a brakeman on July 12, 1875. He was promoted to baggage master in April, 1879, to assistant conductor in August, 1882, and has been a conductor since May, 1886. Practically his entire service has been on the Newton circuit.

GOOD ADVICE

If you make your home in Newton help make Newton grow. Live in Newton; Trade in Newton; Bank in Newton. Every man in Newton owes to the City in which he makes his home, his loyal support to its stores, industries, and banks. The man who lives in Newton but works outside, trades outside, and places his money outside of Newton Banks is accepting the benefits which the City offers thru the support of its people and contributing nothing towards its growth.

NEWTON BADMINTON CLUB

The golf tournament held at the club, Bray Hall, Saturday afternoon, resulted in a tie score for first place between Mrs. Gifford LeCleair of Waban and Mrs. Harry P. Bradford of Lake avenue, Newton Centre. The tie was played off Wednesday morning, when, after two rounds of nine holes each, Mrs. Bradford emerged the winner of first prize. Mrs. E. L. Arnold of Newton Centre, showed creditable ability in this, her first contest, finishing a close third.

The putting contest for men was won by Mr. Harry P. Bradford of Newton Centre. Gifford LeCleair of Waban his closest opponent, won second prize.

Nine holes were played twice around by each competitor. The new indoor golf ball more than came up to expectations, modifying the speed on the hard-wood floor of the club, to that of the Florida Golf in prime condition, requiring about the same care and skill in putting.

Immediately following the golf contest, lively mixed doubles, and singles at Badminton were indulged in by members and visitors.

The courts between two and five P. M. on Saturdays are devoted to the play of lady and gentlemen members, when visitors are welcome to inspect the Club.

HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY

Interscholastic hockey has turned the halfway mark and is now heading down the homestretch. The games of the next two weeks will determine which team has the right to call itself Champions. We may seem to be anticipating, but in our opinion Cambridge Latin has the title as good as won. We pick Melrose to finish second and our own Newton six to secure or tie for third place.

Last Friday evening Newton faced the crack Cambridge Latin team at the Arena in a game that practically ruined whatever chances the Orange and Black may have had for top honors. Cambridge won 4 to 1, and, as we expected, Tubber Cronin was responsible for the Newton downfall. Cronin is far and away the best hockey player in the interscholastic League and all who saw him in action at the Arena last Friday night will readily vouch for the truth of this statement. Cronin scored all four goals for Cambridge, and was all over the ice for his team. Newton had no one to match him in speed and hockeycraft and was obliged to see him break through the Orange and Black defense almost at will. The rest of the fellows on the Cambridge Latin team displayed signs of intelligent hockey and with Cronin in their midst looked like an outfit that would give many a college six a run for its money. On the face of showings made thus far this year we can see no reason why Cambridge Latin will not capture first honors.

Newton has won two hockey games during the past week, defeating the Middlesex School at North Concord 3 to 2, and shutting out Rindge Tech at the Arena last Wednesday night. In both these games superior speed was the telling factor for the Orange and Black.

Melrose is the only team in the League that looks able at this time to give Cambridge Latin a live tussle. Melrose held the fast Exeter Academy team to a 3 to 2 score last Wednesday, being the first high school team that has not suffered defeat at the hands of the Academy speedsters.

When Melrose faces off against Cambridge it is going to be a game worth travelling a great ways to see.

Chief Mitchell was born March 27, 1862, and was appointed a member of the Police force on April 7, 1890. He was successively appointed sergeant and lieutenant and on the resignation of Chief Tarbox, was, on Feb. 6, 1905, appointed to his present office by Mayor Alonzo R. Weed.

He will be retired on half pay, his present salary being $3000.

JUNIOR ALLIANCE ENTERTAINED

The Sunshine Society of Channing Church, which has recently organized as a Junior Alliance and thereby linked itself with the nation-wide movement, held a formal meeting in the church parlors last Tuesday afternoon, Miss Alice Barney, the president, presiding.

Miss Mary F. Gill, secretary of the Committee on Young People of the Alliance of Unitarian Women, was the guest of honor. Miss Gill told the girls of the different groups of girls and young women which she has met, and which are doing work similar to that of the Sunshine Society. She brought with her three young women from her own Junior Alliance in Jamaica Plain, one of whom read the annual report of their club telling of their last season's work; another told of their share in the Christmas party given Italian children at Bulfinch Place Church in Boston, while the third read a letter from her "Friendly Link," a girl in Pontypool, Wales.

After the meeting the Juniors were given a delicious supper by the Senior Alliance, under the direction of Miss Georgia H. Emery, assisted by members of the executive board. During the supper Miss Helen L. Wells, in the absence of Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer, the president of Channing Alliance, presented the Juniors with twenty-five dollars in gold as a nest-egg for a permanent fund. After supper there was music by one of the girls.

NEWTON GRADE TEACHERS' CLUB

The teachers of the west district of the city, which is made up of the schools of West Newton and Auburndale, delightfully entertained the Grade Teachers' Club last week Thursday at the Men's Club House in Auburndale. The entertainment was under the direction of Miss Ethel Gardner, Miss Mae Goodwin and Miss Marie Daiger, took the form of a gable, game and gambol party. The guests on arriving were given a choice of colored tags signifying their preference as to games. Auction, whist, five-hundred, bowling, billiards and dancing were provided. Miss Helen Newell and Miss Virginia Mason played for dancing. Delicious refreshments were served by the committee.

Prior to the entertainment the executive committee held a meeting, at which the recommendations submitted by the sick benefit fund committee were approved and accepted. It was also voted to become affiliated as a club with the National Education Association.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

Scout Officers and Troop Committee men will complete a celebration of Anniversary Week conducted by the Local Boy Scout Council next Monday evening, when they will be the guests of Rev. Fr. James F. Haney of Newton Centre. Father Haney's interest in Scouting has been of many years' standing, and with a vision of the possibilities that Scouting has in it for all boys, he gives much service to the Local Council. Following the banquet at 6.30 there will be addresses by Mr. Ralph L. Hazlett of Watertown and Mayor Childs of Newton. The principal address will be given by Rev. Fr. Robert Barry whose subject will be "Organization."

Scouts should leave early for the camp so that a long day may be spent close to nature. Needham cars leave 25 after 5 and 5 of the hour. Camp will break up about five o'clock. Scouts should bring some substantial food and water.

Bigelow lost her first hockey game last Saturday morning to Horace Mann by a score of 1-0.

Bigelow has finished her league schedule, winning three and losing one game. Bigelow scored seven points to her opponents' one.

On Thursday morning Miss Marryott, from the educational department of the S. P. C. A., addressed the assembled classes in the school hall. Miss Marryott is a very effective speaker, and the stereopticon pictures which she used as illustrations were charming.

Miss Tewksbury's class had the highest attendance record for the past four weeks. Their average was 96.3 per cent. Miss Coy's class came next with a record of 95.9 per cent.

ALDERMEN HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

Largely Attended Hearing on Proposed Use of North Roadway of Commonwealth Avenue by Automobiles

The aldermen held a long and rather interesting meeting Monday evening, with only Aldermen Pratt and Melcher absent.

The chief interest centered in the hearing on the proposal to use the north side of Commonwealth Avenue for automobile traffic, as a one way street. About one hundred persons were present for this hearing which was opened by Alderman Young who said that part of the north roadway was in need of repair and both the City Engineer and the Street Commissioner believed the time had now come to open this side of the avenue to relieve the congestion of traffic on the south side. About $30,000 would have to be expended this year and $60,000 more in the near future.

Mr. F. A. Schirmer stated that the residents on the south side had had no notice of the hearing, altho all those residing on the north side had been formally notified, and later in the hearing he called the hearing unfair as the residents on the south side had a deep interest in the proposal as those on the north side. Mr. W. A. Mosman said that the auto traffic on the south side was a great nuisance at the present time. Mr. G. W. McNear said he had used the avenue since 1906 and that the traffic was so dense in the summer time as to make it almost impossible. Mr. James Forescue urged the matter as a move in the direction of safety. Mr. W. C. Doherty said that it was almost necessary to have a traffic cop at his place when he wanted to turn into his driveway on a Sunday afternoon. Mr. H. W. Anderson and Mr. Hoxie spoke in a similar vein and letters were read in favor from Louis S. Ross, Henry N. Sweet and a phone message from the Holland System was mentioned.

The opposition was out in force and was opened by Mr. G. J. Martin, who said he had lived at Chestnut Hill for 14 years and in Newton all his life. The initial expense of $90,000 he said was a lot of money and Newton needed more school buildings first. This matter will come some time but the city is not financially able to take it on now. Property on the north side will not improve and some residents have threatened to move away if the north roadway was used for automobile traffic. The maintenance will increase to almost double the figure of $10,500 of last year and there will be difficulty in removing the snow from both roadbeds. There is plenty of room now on the south roadbed for it is 36 feet wide, while the best state roads are but 21 feet wide. The situation at Lake street will be bad, as the Elevated cars occupy part of the roadway which is only 21 feet wide at that point. The north roadbed is also 8 feet narrower near Irving street and there is another bad place at Prince street. Mr. C. J. O'Malley said there was no serious congestion on the south side, except at a few bad spots. The expense will be doubled, a one-way street will cause great confusion and it will be a detriment to north side property. Mr. D. E. Irving said he had lived on the avenue for 4 years. This proposal will change a safety zone into a speedway and it will be an invitation to motorists from all over the state to use it as a speedway. You will make a Dorchester avenue out of Commonwealth avenue. It will require added police, and more hospital facilities. Mr. Irving suggested that it was time to give pedestrians a chance to get some free air and sunshine. Mr. John F. Cronin made more misstatements of fact than seemed possible from an intelligent man. He mentioned the financial survey in the recent school report and added the alleged information that Newton stood to lose a million dollars of its usual revenue from corporation taxes. He also informed the board that the financial condition of the city was such that it could not build a school house for seven years without a bond issue (Ed. Every school in the city has been built from a bond issue.) He also stated that it would cost $7,500 a running foot to build the street and a total of $150,000, altho he failed to state by what kind of arithmetic he got a total of $150,000 by multiplying 17,000 feet at $7.50 a foot. This he said was only the first step. He closed by advancing the suggestion that the city ought not to injure the beautiful estates on the north side by taking 15 to 18 feet from their front lots. Mr. F. W. Renick said that if the city had any money to spend it should use it for school houses and teachers. Mr. H. J. Wilson thought that children ought to have a place to ride bicycles and believed there was room enough now on the south side for automobiles. Mr. Lindberg had two boys who rode bicycles and believed auto traffic on the north side would be a constant danger to children. Mr. Theodore P. Grant said the only time there was congestion on the south side was on Sundays in the spring and fall. He brought out the danger from parking of cars on the 24 foot roadway on the north side. Mr. Lloyd Newton, who had a riding school said he would be unable to use the north side for horses with a slippery roadbed and automobile traffic. One man who did not give his name wanted to protest with all the strength of his "five foot six." Mr. H. W. Orr for the Newtonville Improvement Society said the cost is so large it will affect the tax rate and postpone other improvements. This matter has been carefully considered. Mr. W. A. O'Donnell called attention to the present condition of the Rice school and wanted school and teachers given consideration before the joy riders. Mr. John H. Gordon said he enjoyed seeing the autos on the other side of the avenue, thought it ridiculous from a taxation standpoint and asked "What are you going to do at Lake street?" Mr. J. B. Pastorelli called attention to what crazy drivers might do at Waban Hill road, W. S. Roadway, Benjamin Stern, Wm. H. Rogers, C. H. Pratt also spoke briefly on the same general lines and numerous letters of protest were filed with the City Clerk.

Mr. Schirmer was given a chance to reply and after protesting against the failure to notify the south side residents, said that this improvement was a public necessity. Newton was in good financial condition and had, alone in all the cities of the state, reduced its tax rate. He invited those who said there was no congestion to visit his house and see for themselves. In conclusion he urged that Newton should cooperate with Boston in the use of the north side in both Newton and Boston. Mrs. Margaret Ross also spoke in favor of the project saying that the cars went four different ways near her house on the avenue.

Protests were made against a proposed 6-car repair shop at 333 Boylston street, by J. E. O'Connor and James W. Spring. Mr. Lichner protested against an 8-car repair shop on Rogers street. The petition of E. H. Ellison for a gas filling station corner of Crafts and Washington street was favored by Mr. Ellison's attorney, who said the place was an eye sore now, and as it was impossible to sell on account of the saw mill near it, this was about the only possible use which could be made. Bart Hayes and Lawrence W. Stanley entered strong protests and Dr. O'Donnell filed a telephoned objection.

There was long debate over the report of the Building Department committee over the request of the school committee for $3500 for changes in the new Junior high school now being built at Newtonville. Mr. Nichols said that the discussion last summer over what facilities should be given for gymnasium and assembly purposes resulted in a double room with folding doors between. This arrangement provided no room for the storage of the chairs when the floor space was cleared. The architects had now provided an addition at a cost of $2500. He said that Alderman Whidden's judgment had been warped on this matter thru the long discussions on the matter and thru his impatience of the chairman of the school committee. Mr. Ross said that the committee believed the chairs could be taken care of in other ways than by building an addition to the building. Mr. Jewell aroused a protest from Mr. Whidden when he repeated Mr. Nichols' statement that Mr. Whidden's "disposition had been warped." This matter he said was an oversight of the architects and it was poor economy to refuse this small amount on a plant costing $350,000. Mr. Grebenstein said the city ought to build the school house right. Mr. Whidden explained the entire situation and the reasons for refusing the request last year and said the small room wanted by the school committee at a cost of nearly $1000 was unnecessary. Mr. White said the whole matter had been under consideration for a year and the school committee don't know what to do with the building when they get it or what sort of a curriculum they will provide. He thought the building would make a fine Y. M. C. A. building. Mr. Phipps said that because the architects or the school committee had made mistakes did not justify the board refusing to make this building complete.

Mr. Heathcote said the board had better rely on Mr. Whidden's judgment as the school committee don't know what it wants not only once but as a continuous policy. Mr. Saltonstall thought it a fundamental defect not to supply storage for chairs. The report of the inexperience was then accepted by a close vote of 10 to 9.

Mayor Childs sent in the request, approved by him, of Chief of Police Frederick M. Mitchell to be retired on half salary pension on March 1st on account of disability. Chief Mitchell has been a member of the police force for 31 5/6 years. Later in the session the request was granted and $1257 appropriated for the pension from March 1st. The mayor also sent in requests for $808.77 for pension for Martin J. Neagle and $300 for committee expenses both of which were approved. He also sent in a request of W. F. Brennan for abatement of $3.16 street sprinkling assessment. He also sent in the reappointments of Overseer of the Poor, Oswald J. McCourt, William C. Brewer as member of the Playground Commission and Dr. C. A. Boutelle as inspector of animals.

Word was received that the Dept. of Public Works had approved the bill-board ordinance passed by the board of 1921.

Petitions of Anteras Bedigian for a victualler license on Mechanic street, J. W. Porter for an auctioneer license, Consell Marquette for a pool table in Nonantum, John H. McGuire for a taxi license, W. A. Sweet and A. F. Shayne for truck licenses, and Mrs. Jas. McDonald, Gardner street, E. M. Boyd, Shorncliffe road, and Mrs. E. H. Gratto, Ash street were granted private garage permits. Sam Bram was granted a (Continued on Page 4)

I WILL CAMPAIGN

The Centenary M. E. Church of Auburndale started an "I Will Campaign" last Sunday which will be quite a novelty in this city. The campaign will last until Sunday, March 26th.

The first Sunday, Feb. 5, was a splendidly successful opening of the campaign, which is an effort to realize, for a period of eight weeks, the full possibilities in attendance, efficiency of service, enthusiasm and spiritual power of the regular program of the church. No extra meetings will be held, but every regular meeting will be as carefully prepared as possible that it may have the greatest effect possible.

Every department of the church is included, Sunday School, Epworth League, Young People's Clubs, Men's and Women's organizations, and the choir.

Sunday morning the three choirs of the church, totalling eighty in number, sang Maunders' "Lord, Thy Children Guide and Keep." The Senior Choir sang Roland Smart's "Praise the Lord, O My Soul." The pastor preached on the theme, "Know Thou God." The church was filled to capacity, and 236 pledge cards, pledging special support to the campaign, were signed. At the Sunday School hour it was found that every record established by the school in recent years had been broken. Among other things it was noteworthy that eleven classes had perfect attendance. The attendance was larger than in many years. The Epworth League service at night consisted of a dramatic presentation in the parish house, under direction of the pastor, of the first chapter of Dan Brummitt's book, "John Wesley, Jr." The chapter, arranged by Mr. Harper in six scenes, with eight young people besides the pastor participating, was most effectively presented. The Epworth League attendance was 66. In coming weeks the remainder of the book will be presented in similar fashion, a chapter or two chapters each week. At the evening service the three choirs sang again, and the Senior choir rendered the "Gloria," from Mozart's Twelfth Mass. An even greater attendance in the evening than in the morning was recorded. Dr. Jas. M. Gage, Methodist Area Secretary, preached a stirring sermon on the subject "Leavening the Loaf." The old "Wesley Sunday Service," Edition of 1784, adapted to local and present day needs, was used as the order of service, morning and evening. This service will be used regularly in the morning for the duration of the campaign.

Next Sunday morning the campaign will be continued, the pastor preaching on "Abraham Lincoln, an 'I WILL' Man."

The Laymen's service assigned for next Sunday evening has been postponed, and in its place there will be an illustrated song service and a lecture on "One Year in the United States."

An effort to organize a Young Women's Club is being crowned with special success. Miss Woodward, gymnasium instructor at Lasell Seminary, has been secured as directress of athletics for this club. The club meets each Monday night in the parish house for athletic drill, basket ball and dramatics, with a monthly business and social meeting on another week night. More than a score of young women have regularly enrolled as members, and the enrollment grows with each passing week. A Young Men's Club of similar type and with a nearly parallel program begins its work this week. Rev. Albion J. Tavenner, of Boston University, being engaged as director.

NEWTON BEATS MEDFORD

By a margin of one point, Newton High did the unexpected yesterday afternoon, defeating the strong Medford High School track team, 34 1/2 to 23 1/2 points in the former's gymnasium at Newtonville.

Medford High ruled a decided favorite, but Newton had athletes who more than held up their own. Newton had an advantage in using spikes. Medford High did not have that equipment, handicapped its chances somewhat.

Capt. Clarence G. McDavitt, Jr., sprinter; Dicks, New England 10-mile schoolboy champion, who won the 1000-yard run; Johnson, shotputter, and Meredith, sprinter, were members of the Newton team who contributed largely to its success.

The only double first place winner was Capt. Clarence G. McDavitt, Jr., Newton High. He proved best in the 300-yard dash field and led in the final of the 300-yard run, scoring 10 points for his team.

One of the most spectacular races of the day, by the way, was the final of the 300-yard run. McDavitt went to the front at the outset, with Harrington Moore, Medford, close at his heels.

The Medford boy tried in vain to overtake the Garden City lad, but the more he pushed, the faster the Newton leader seemed to travel. McDavitt won by a small margin over Moore.

Reilly of Medford was a close third. Dicks, Newton, surprised many by beating Davidson, Medford star, in the 1000-yard event. Dicks jumped into the lead early and, using good headwork, managed to fight off his Medford opponent the entire distance. He won by a small margin.

Newton made a cleanup in the final of the 300-yard dash when Clarence McDavitt, Jr., Newton, came home first, with Meredith, teammate, close at his heels. "Hank" Moore, Medford, and Weeks, Newton, ran a dead heat for third place.

Harold Moody, Medford, only had to leap 5ft 5in to win first place in the running high jump. Johnson was Newton's star in the 12-pound shotput, winning with a heave of 38ft 8 1/4 in.

The relay race was the final event. Newton was leading, 34 1/2 to 23 1/2, before that event was run. The Medford team gave a fine account of itself, taking the lead early and holding a fair margin throughout. The summary:

30-Yard Dash—Won by Clarence McDavitt, Newton High; Meredith, Newton High, second; tie for third between Moore, Medford, and Weeks, Newton High. Time, 4s.

300-Yard Run—Won by McDavitt, Newton High; Moore, Medford High, second; Reilly, Medford High, third. Time, 35s.

600-Yard Run—Won by Kelly, Medford High; Ryall, Newton High, second; Meredith, Newton High, third. Time, 1m, 24 5/8s.

1000-Yard Run—Won by Dicks, Newton High; Davidson, Medford High, second; Wingate, Medford High, third. Time, 2m 33s.

High Jump—Won by Moody, Medford High, height 5ft 5in; tie for second place between Blair, Newton High, and Lawrence, Medford High at 5ft 4in.

Shotput—Won by Johnson, Newton High, distance 38ft 8 1/4 in; Crocker, Medford High, second, distance 35ft 8 1/4 in.

Relay Race—Medford vs Newton—Won by Medford (Hornell, Reilly, Kelly, Moore); Newton High (Weeks, Ryall, Dix, McQuestion) second. Time, 2m 32 1/8s.

Standing Broad Jump—Won by Kohler, Newton High, distance 9ft 3 1/4 in; Lindner, Medford High, second, 9 ft 2 1/4 in; Ward Crocker, Medford High, third, distance 9ft.

OFFICER NEAGLE RETIRED

Police Officer Martin J. Neagle, one of the best known and respected members of the Newton police department, was retired on half pay last Tuesday, on account of age 57 1/2. Mr. Neagle has been a member of the force since November 24, 1890.

SIR ERNEST SHACKLETON

News comes to us this week of the sudden death of the well-known antarctic explorer, Sir Ernest Shackleton, on board his good ship, "The Quest." Sir Ernest was born in England in 1874, and has been in antarctic work practically all his life. In 1901 he was a third lieutenant of the "National Antarctic Expedition," while in 1907-09 he commanded the British antarctic expedition which reached within 97 miles of the South Pole. In "The Heart of the Antarctic" (G149-S52) he describes the trials and success of the expedition. In 1914-17 he commanded another expedition, an account of which he has told in the recently published volume entitled "South" (G149-S52).

Last September he left England on another expedition to the southern seas, where he was to explore some 30,000 miles of uncharted sections and search for a lost island.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

"The Stranger at Our Gates." At the meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church, held Wednesday afternoon, local color was contributed by two of Newton's successful social workers, Miss Sabin, of the Saco-Lowell Shops of Upper Falls and Mrs. Hull of the Welfare Bureau. The program had been arranged by Mrs. Lichliter, leader of Group III, but she was unable to be present on account of sickness. Devotions were led by Mrs. Puffer, and Mrs. Crowe sang beautifully "Jesu Misere" by Schuler and "Unto Me" by William Coenen. Mrs. Fred Edmonds was hostess at the tea.

Miss Sabin told something of the lives and customs of the Italians, Russians and Armenians. Her interest in them was of such a friendly sort that one forgot the word "problem," and thought only of the picturesque, human element. Seeing what interests the foreigners and entering into their pleasures is Miss Sabin's way, rather than perplexing them with too much that is new and unfamiliar. In their club room, the Russians gather about the big stove, sing, play, read home letters and figure on the blackboard. Talented in music and dramatics, they give entertainments of much merit.

It is no wonder that the Armenians are somewhat saddened. There are but few of their women who can come to them from overseas. At weddings and dances their suffering kinsfolk are remembered by offerings of money. They are a generous people, giving freely to good objects. There will soon be an opportunity for those interested to see what the children can do, as a little opera called "Ye Little Old Folks' Concert," will be given Saturday at 2.30, and Wednesday at 7.45, in the Emerson School Hall.

UNITED MEN'S CLUBS MEETING

The Men's Clubs of Newton Centre Churches were the guests on Monday night, of the Men's Club of the Congregational Church in whose spacious rooms the meeting was held. A large attendance showed the appreciation of the other clubs toward the hosts of the evening and good fellowship marked the whole evening. The address was given by Rev. George Lawrence Parker, Minister of the Unitarian Church, Newton Centre, his topic being, "Russia as a Problem of Democracy." Mr. Parker was minister of the British American Church in Petrograd from 1906 to 1909, and though not present during the period of the war and the revolution yet knows the Russian situation so intimately that his personal experiences throw much light on Russian conditions. He told of the relation between the Russian Character and politics. Kept in childlike subjection for so many centuries the Russians have not known what to do with freedom when it has at last arrived. He described the Soviet Government as cruel and tyrannical but said that it was in part a natural result of the old cruelty of the Czar system. He said that the Allies had made a great mistake in not finding some way to deal with Russia in spite of Bolshevism and expressed his faith that Russia who did more than any nation to save Europe in the first years of the war would yet find her true freedom and contribute a vast amount of material and spiritual wealth to the world. He declared that the Russians are a most lovable people and deserve the best kind of history in the future. His fear that Germany may gain control of Russia was strongly expressed.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

The average man literally has to talk his way through life. The better he can talk, the more certain will be his progress.

We are all speakers—in a sense. Daily we are called upon to give expression to our thoughts. We talk about our ideas, our plans. Whether we are selling goods on the road or over the counter, or whether we are attempting to persuade a client or a customer, we need to be interesting, forceful, convincing.

The ability to think and talk convincingly depends upon self-confidence. It is a characteristic which all big men know the value of. It enables them to command the attention of those who listen to them, whether they speak to men as individuals or to groups in shop, office, or in public places.

Confidence is a man's greatest asset—confidence in himself, in his opinions, in his ability. Many men today could command a greater measure of the things which they desire if they understood how to make greater use of their own personal powers, and how to control and direct their energies in the most effective manner.

MR. CHARLES H. BRECK RETIRES

Charles H. Breck has resigned as president and director of the Joseph Breck & Sons Corporation and has transferred his interest in the business to his son, Luther A. Breck and his son-in-law, John Benbow, who, together with his brother, Joseph F. Breck, who is treasurer of the corporation, will continue the business as usual.

The house was founded in 1822 (the year Boston became a city) and has been continued without interruption ever since. With the advent of Messrs. Luther A. Breck as president, and John Benbow as vice-president, the fourth generation of the Breck family succeeded in the management of the business.

Charles H. Breck, a student of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology entered the store in 1865; became a partner with his grandfather, Joseph Breck, and his father, Charles H. B. Breck, in 1875, and succeeded the latter as president in 1900.

EDITORIAL

"Call the District Manager" is only another instance of the efforts of the Edison Company to render efficient service.

The retirement of Chief of Police Mitchell on half pay is undoubtedly the best solution of what must have been a most uncomfortable situation. The Chief will carry with him in retirement the best wishes of his many friends who appreciate his long and faithful service to the city.

The retirement of Martin J. Neagle of the Police Department and of P. E. Ellis of the Fire Department should receive more than passing notice. Officer Neagle was, for many years, the faithful and efficient day officer in West Newton and has a long and most excellent record as a policeman. Mr. Ellis served the Newton Fire Department at Newton Centre most faithfully for many years and also has a splendid record. Both Mr. Neagle and Mr. Ellis will have a cordial "God speed" and best wishes for many days of health and prosperity from the entire community.

Persons who appear at aldermanic hearings and make reckless and unfounded statements of alleged facts do their case more harm than good. This was strikingly manifested last Monday night at the hearing on opening the north roadway of Commonwealth avenue to automobile traffic. While it is true that Newton needs more school houses it is the present plan to see how the Junior High School plan operates in the building now under construction before deciding just what is needed in this direction. In the meantime, the city has a debt limit of about $820,000 and can seemingly well afford $30,000 this year to resurface Commonwealth avenue. We believe, however, that automobile traffic ought not to be allowed on the north roadway unless there is co-operation with Boston so that part of the possible danger at Lake street may be averted.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

A number of interesting matters were heard this week on Beacon Hill, including the repeal of the daylight saving law, the popular election of judges, a bill to give school committees full power over the construction of school buildings and employment of janitors, and for a new State prison. Representative Fie's bill, to allow the removal of a mayor from office, was also heard, although Mr. Rice was absent on official business. There was strong opposition to the bill, however.

The bill amending the zoning law so that an ordinance once passed can be repealed or modified, where an owner objects, by a four-fifths vote instead of by a unanimous vote, has been passed by both Houses, and is now before the Governor, whose assent is confidently expected.

Next Tuesday there will be a continued hearing before the Public Utilities Commission on the proposed change in street car service at Braves Field, and a strong protest is expected from Newton people.

(Held over from last week.)

A bill backed by the labor, fire and police organizations to prevent employees of cities and towns to do any work on their time off from their regular employment, was given leave to withdraw on Monday. The writer had the chairman of the Judiciary committee explain that there was some doubt as to the constitutionality of such a measure, that it was a matter wholly within the powers of the local governments and that it was too broad in its scope, before the House approved the report.

DEATH OF MRS. FARNHAM

Mrs. Mary C. (Shapleigh) Farnham, widow of David S. Farnham, the latter for thirty-five years a teacher in the schools of Newton and of Brookline, died on Monday at her home, 117 Lake avenue, Newton Centre, following an illness of long standing. She was a native of West Lebanon, Me., and was born on August 23, 1845, a daughter of Charles and Elizabeth J. (Corbett) Shapleigh, the former at one time associated with the old Oriental Tea Company, in Court street, Boston, of which his brother was the founder. Mrs. Farnham was educated at the West Lebanon Academy.

Following her marriage, she and Mr. Farnham went to West Medway and later they moved to Newton Centre. Mrs. Farnham lived there for fifty-five years. Her husband, who died in 1911, was engaged in the real estate business in his later years. Mrs. Farnham had been a member of the First Congregational Church of this community ever since they came to Newton, and she was a member also of the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Surviving Mrs. Farnham are three children: Frank R. Farnham of Emerson, N. J.; John N. W. Farnham of Worcester; and Charles S. Farnham of Newton Highlands. There are also four sisters, Mrs. Helen S. Bartlett of Arlington; Miss Harriet S. Shapleigh and Mrs. Ida Hodson, both of Dover, N. H.; and Mrs. Fannie C. Brackett, who resides in Pasadena, Calif. Services were held on Thursday at her late residence, Rev. Edward M. Noves officiating, and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

DEATH OF MR. SHERMAN

John Parker Rice Sherman, 72 years of age, the son of Charles B. and Hattie Crowninshield (Rice) Sherman, died on Monday at his home at 124 Vernon street, Newton, where he had lived for the past seventeen years.

Mr. Sherman was a native of Boston and was born on Tremont street, opposite the Common. He was at one time treasurer of the New England Mortgage Security Company, but for some years had been retired from active business. Mr. Sherman was a member of the Boston Athletic Association and the Union Boat Club. He attended the Eliot Congregational Church in Newton.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Hattie West Sherman, who is the daughter of the late John C. and Mary Cole Chaffin.

Services were held on Wednesday at his late residence, Rev. Laurens MacLure officiating, and the burial was in Forest Hills.

NEWTON BEATEN AGAIN

Milton Academy continued its successful march in hockey Wednesday afternoon when it beat Newton High School by 5 to 2, on the new Milton Academy rink. Owing to some misunderstanding over the time actually occupied in playing, it was decided to play two 5-minute overtime periods when the regular battle ended.

Dr. Martin, the Newton mentor, discovered that the timers counted time whenever the referee sounded his whistle for substitutions. As a result the team did not really have 36 minutes of play in the regular periods. Milton was leading Newton, 4 to 1, at the end of the three sessions.

WABAN NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

The Waban Neighborhood Club presented a very unusual appearance on Wednesday evening, when the Ladies' Circle of Union Church gave a whist party.

One entered the main room through a gateway, over which were the words, "Union Station." Near by was a ticket office, in charge of Mr. Samuel Wyman, and information booth, in charge of Mr. Howard North, while Mr. Elmer E. Shilland announced the trains.

Mrs. Howard North and Mrs. Robert Moore were in charge, respectively, of the ladies' mail box and of the men's mail box.

Each person upon entering went to the mail box and received a valentine addressed to the capital of a state.

He or she then sought out the table where the name of the capital assigned to him or her was displayed. One hundred and fifty people played cards at the different tables. Over two hundred tickets were sold.

The tables were gaily decorated with balloons, hearts, etc.

Mrs. Harry Matthews, the very efficient chairman, was unfortunately unable to be present, but her place was taken by Mrs. Robert Moore and Mrs. Eugene Bissell, to whose efforts much of the success of the affair was due. They were ably assisted by a committee of sixteen. The gateway was the work of Mrs. Moore.

A number of prizes were awarded.

The first ladies' prize was won by Mrs. John White, and was a pair of handsome candlesticks. The first men's prize was won by Mr. Charles R. Boggs, and was a thermos bottle.

All present seemed to enter into the spirit of the occasion, and the affair was one of the pleasantest and most successful at the clubhouse.

An order fixing the salary of the Comptroller of Accounts at $4200 was recommended to wait for the budget.

On favorable report of the Committee on Legislation the Mayor and City Solicitor were authorized to petition for the elimination of the present preferential voting plan. Mr. White said that this plan had been in operation for 6 years and hadn't accomplished all that was expected of it. THE EDISON ELECTRIC ILLUMINATING COMPANY OF BOSTON

General Offices—39 Boylston Street

BOSTON, MASS., February 9, 1922

To the Customers of the Company Taking

Service Under Rate Schedule "A":—

In accordance with the policy announced on October 1, 1918, in connection with the application of a coal clause charge, and on November 1, 1918, in connection with a supplementary charge of 10%, modified on June 30, 1920, to 5%, the Company now takes pleasure in making the announcement that the coal clause and the 5% increase, which have applied to customers taking service under Rate Schedule "A," will be cancelled, and that on all meter readings made subsequent to February 28, 1922, the rate will be ten cents (10c) per kilowatt hour.

This reduction in price, amounting to somewhat over 9%, will favorably affect more than 135,000 of the Company's customers.

If business conditions continue to improve to the same extent that they have during the past two or three months, it is the hope and expectation of the Company to make a further reduction to nine and one-half cents (9½c) per kilowatt hour on September 1, 1922.

HIRE GOVERNMENT HELP

The civil service commission hires all employees in the classified service of the government. The only thing to be said about the classified service, is that it has not yet been classified.

But you shall hear what the civil service commission has to say about hiring help, without comment from me.

There is an utter lack of definitely planned and well-organized employment policy in the government service.

There is need for a centralized employment office with jurisdiction in all matters relating to employment.

The employment methods of the government should be such as to serve for a model for private business.

There is at present no central control over the executive service short of the President. The President is a busy man and cannot concern himself with the details of the executive departments.

The lack of efficiency in government offices has a marked effect on private business.

Definite information concerning the number of federal civil employees in different branches of the service and the amount of the government payroll are not readily available.

An official register, or blue book, is issued every two years. It is out of date long before it is printed.

A provision of the civil service rules theoretically gives the civil service commission authority to collect and maintain complete personnel statistics. The labor and expense involved, however, practically prohibit the collection and compilation of reliable statistical data.

In addition to the limits of the commission's authority is the absence of authority to enforce its findings. The commission can make recommendations to the departments and offices and urge their observance, but it cannot enforce them.

Congress passed what is known as the civil service law January 10, 1883. This act created the United States civil service commission. The law was intended to cure in part the evils traceable to the spoils system, which grew out of the four-year-tenure-of-office act of 1820.

During the first 40 years after the organization of our government, administrative practice with regard to the civil service seemed to conform to the intention of the founders. The Constitution fixed the term of no officer in the executive branch of the government except those of the President and vice president. It was the established usage during these first 40 years to permit executive officers, except members of the cabinet, to hold office for an unlimited period during good behavior. The practice was changed in 1820 by the four-year-tenure act. The spoils system, as it was officially described as early as 1835, was introduced and extended until it permeated the entire civil service of the country.

The fundamental purpose of the civil service law was to establish, in the parts of the service covered by its provisions, a merit system whereby selection for appointment should be made upon the basis of demonstrated relative fitness, without regard to political, religious, or other such considerations.

The act requires that the rules shall provide, among other things, for open competitive examinations for testing the fitness of applicants for the classified service, the making of appointments from among those passing with highest grades, an apportionment of appointments in the departments at Washington among the states and territories, a period of probation before absolute appointment, and the prohibition of the use of official authority to coerce the political action of any person or body.

In 1883, the year in which the civil service law was enacted, 13,924 positions in the civil service were made subject to competition. The entire number of positions in the federal executive civil service on June 30, 1916, was 480,327. At the height of the war expansion there were approximately 1,000,000 men and women employed in the federal executive civil service, about 700,000 of whom held positions subject to competition. On July 31, 1920, the entire number of federal executive civil positions, as nearly as can be estimated, had been reduced to 691,110. Approximately 450,000 of these were subject to competition, or, in other words, in the classified service. The force is still slowly but steadily decreasing.

During the 19 months of our participation in the war the civil service commission gave competitive examinations under the civil service law and rules to slightly less than 1,000,000 persons, and about 400,000 persons with tested qualifications were supplied by the commission to the service. A normal year's business is about 200,000 persons examined and about 50,000 appointed.

OBJECTS TO INCOMPLETE SCHOOL

The following letter has been sent to the city government by Mr. Everett E. Kent, chairman of the School Committee:

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Newton:

The circumstances under which the honorable Board of Aldermen last Monday denied an appropriation recommended by your, Mr. Mayor, that would enable all pupils to sit down together when exercises are held in the hall of the new school on Walnut and Crafts streets, included such mistaken information that I hope the matter will be reconsidered and the recent action reversed. The action of the board was based on a misconception. The discussion was confused by much irrelevant talk, ranging from the proper temperature of a bath to speculation as to whether the School Committee knows what it wants. The pertinent facts are simple.

The new school has normal desk room for 674 pupils, but can hold more by crowding, and is expected to grow by addition of class rooms with the present rapid growth of the region. The exercise room or gymnasium, next behind it, is separated only by a movable partition, and has a floor that can hold 400 more seats, behind which is the moving picture booth. This floor must ordinarily be kept clear of chairs, but the proper and regular conduct of the school requires that at occasional intervals, say once a week, and on rare special occasions when outside speakers are present, or notable school events occur, the partition should be rolled open and chairs be put on the exercise floor to increase the seating capacity of the school; and also at times to receive parents and friends, or for some community use.

Storage space must, therefore, be provided in which the chairs can be stacked when not in use, so as to leave the floor ordinarily clear. If the aldermen do not wish deliberately to burden and obstruct the proper use of this building, and if they wish to save frequent hiring of chairs, or hiring of outside labor, both of which are uneconomical and are discouraging of proper uses of the hall, the chair storage must be where the chairs can be slid on the floor to and from their places. The architect has made acceptable drawings for such, providing spaces just off the floor, which can be used for cloak rooms, if desired, when not containing chairs, and incidentally providing welcome additional space on the floor below for both boys and girls' lunch room. The work is now awaiting decision where the foundation of this part shall be placed, for the work can never in future be done as cheaply as now. Present construction would have to be torn out. No possible drop in building costs can make such future alterations compare in cheapness with the present opportunity to avail of workmen and materials already assembled at the job, nor make up for weekly expenses for outside hired labor of shifting seats.

And here comes in the misconception which, I am told, influenced the votes of some of the aldermen. There is a certain closet in the story below, under some stairs. It will hold 84 seats secured together in 21 blocks of four (as is commonly practiced for safety under fire and panic rules), plus two blocks of three mathematical measurements of the plans show that with careful effort to fill all chairs it may be possible to get in 15 more separated seats; but the practicable maximum is hardly above 100. No other space can be found about the building without displacing some other utility; and the whole building has been designed so economically that the cost of this proposed addition cannot be saved elsewhere and transferred to this use. And the said stair closet cannot be bulged to hold the 400.

The statement was erroneously made to aldermen that it would hold about "150." Upon learning the relative seating capacity of the class rooms, 674, and the hall, 425, it becomes obvious that even 150 would not serve; and what shall be done when the school grows?

I am told that aldermen did not know, and were not told, that this stair closet can be reached from the exercise floor only by carrying chairs down the steps, out of doors, around the building and down further stairs. This makes a costly distance for lifting and carrying banks of seats that weigh close to 100 pounds each, with exposure to weather which at times will wet the seats. It discourages use of the enlarged hall. And I am sure that aldermen did not reflect that provision for housing the entire number of seats must be made when the building is built, even though all are not needed at the outset; and that although class rooms can be added rather cheaply, enlarging the number of pupils in future, the school has cannot later be enlarged at practicable cost.

The effort to make an exercise room serve at times as an addition to the school hall is a measure of economy. The honorable chairman of the Public Buildings Committee of the aldermen has opposed this proposed provision for seats.

I inquired of him, "How then shall we seat the excess children?" He replied, "Let them stand up."

This extraordinary answer leaves the problem unsolved. I do not like to think it represents the real wish of the Board for the children.

I cannot believe that you, Mr. Mayor, nor you, gentlemen of the Board, would seriously assent to this; nor that citizens in general will approve it as good government. At any rate, the School Committee are definitely of opinion that this is not a proper way to administer the schools.

I thought this is in one sense only a trifling matter; it seems to involve the larger issue as to whether the aldermen will support the School Committee (on whom the responsibility for public instruction is placed, rather than on the aldermen), in their reasonable exercise of judgment as to proper studies, methods and equipment for educating our youth.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to raise the issue whether enlightened or benighted methods shall prevail in Newton. Will not the aldermen support present-day educational policies, such as this, where the question is whether the school hall shall be made easily available for economical instruction of large groups—the whole school in a body—by motion picture films, or by invited lecturers, or by the teachers or pupils themselves.

I believe the aldermen will, upon reflection, wish to reconsider. I believe that by working together with the School Committee to make this new school a really good one, up to the standard of other Newton schools, and making it economical and comfortable in its operation, they will best satisfy their constituents, whom it is the duty of both School Committee and aldermen to serve.

I am trusting that some one among the members of the honorable Board or you, Mr. Mayor, will take the proper measures to have this reasonable request come up again for further consideration.

The little miss looked intently at her grandfather for some time, as he was eating his porridge, and then broke the somewhat protracted silence with the remark: "Grandfather, you sound like soup."

ELKS' 54TH ANNIVERSARY

An Interesting Account of the Birth and History of That Splendid Organization

The dawn of February 16, 1922, marks an anniversary of keen interest to nearly 1,000,000 Americans.

Fifty-four years ago—on February 16, 1868—a little group of fourteen men sat in a stuffy room in New York City. Twice they voted on a matter they had been debating for weeks. On the second ballot the now almost forgotten fraternal order of the "Jolly Corks" was disbanded. And the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was born.

The first membership report in the archives of the Elks is dated December 27, 1868. New York Lodge No. 1, the Mother Lodge of the Order, was then its only lodge. There were 76 members on the rolls.

The fifty-fourth anniversary of the order's birth shows a membership of more than 818,000 Elks in more than 1,400 lodges that dot the United States of America. At Anchorage, Alaska, the farthest north Elk lodge, stands amid almost polar ice and snow. Elk lodges rise at Brownsville, Texas, and Key West, Florida—farthest southern points of the continental United States. Our Canal Zone has its lodge at Balboa Heights. Our island possessions are starred with Elk lodges at Manila in the Philippines, at Honolulu and Hilo in Hawaii, at Guam, and at San Juan in Porto Rico. And the Elks of America are working to initiate their millionth member by July, 1922, when the Grand Lodge meets at Atlantic City.

The founder of this organization that is today America's greatest fraternal order? He was a strolling English actor! He never lived to know how well he and his little group of brother-actors had builded.

His body rests today in Mount Hope Cemetery, Boston, Massachusetts, beneath a great granite boulder bearing a bronze plate with the inscription: "Charles Algernon Sidney Vivian. Founder of the Order of Elks. Died March 20, 1880. Aged 34 years. A lover of his kind, who founded a great order and in so doing wrought much good."

Only a handful recall the name of W. L. Bowron of New York, today. Yet it is to him that the "Elks" owe their name. On the second ballot he switched his vote from "Buffalo" to "Elk." Vivian, in the chair, though an ardent advocate of "Buffaloes," ratified the majority of one, and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was born.

One other circumstance, little known, paved the way for the name of "Elks." The committee charged with selecting a name was to meet at Broadway and Ann street, New York. Some were tardy. Others, weary of waiting, strolled into Barnum's Museum on that corner, and wandered through the famous animal collection. "Bears" was suggested, but discarded as animals of few inviting traits, coarse, brutal and morose. "Beavers" were brought up as examples of industry, but cast aside as too destructive. "Foxes," suggested, were voted down as too cunning.

and crafty. A large moose-head attracted attention, but was at last turned down. Then an Elk's head, with graceful, spreading antlers, met with general approval and divided honors with "Buffaloes," which Vivian had advocated strongly, but which half the committee opposed because they did not wish to copy the name of an existing order.

From this trip to Barnum's Museum the committee went to the meeting where the name of "Elks" was chosen.

Since then the order has grown by giant strides. It embraces American citizens from the humblest, to Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, and life member of Marion (Ohio) Lodge No. 32, B. P. O. Elks.

In 1922, Elksdom, with gifts to charity already totalling more than $20,000,000, stepped out of the role of the purely fraternal organization into the rank of one of America's greatest humanitarian brotherhoods.

William W. Mountain, of Toledo, Ohio, Grand Exalted Ruler of the order, announced his policy:

"Make every Elk lodge the civic and humanitarian centre of the community in which it makes its home."

In Chicago, by Lincoln Park, overlooking Lake Michigan, the Elks are building their $3,000,000 National Memorial to the 70,000 Elks who served the United States in the World War, and the more than 1,000 Elks who died in that service. The building will also house the order's central executive organization, and the National Elks' Magazine.

Only men of 21 years or more, American citizens, are eligible to membership.

"The faults of our brothers we write upon the sands—their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory," is Elksdom's motto.

The four cardinal principles of the order are "Charity—Justice—Brotherly Love—Fidelity."

"I guess we built a little better than we knew," says old "Joe" Norcross, only surviving charter member.

And from the Great Beyond, where those long-dead "Jolly Corks" look down upon this earth, they probably agree with him.

D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter of the D. A. R. met on Monday at the home of the regent, Mrs. Frederick J. Feesenden. Mrs. Isabel Taylor gave a monologue on "Doxy Madison." At the last meeting of the board of directors Mrs. Arthur Tucker of Walnut street, Lower Falls, was appointed Chapter Historian in the place of Mrs. Arthur P. Friend, who has resigned after years of faithful service.

MRS. BOWERS' TEA DANCE

An event of interest to the youngest society set of the Newtons is the tea dance to be given at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline, on Washington's Birthday, from 4 to 7 o'clock, by Mrs. Helen W. Bowers.

BRAE BURN CARNIVAL

The Brae Burn Club presented a scene of great gaiety last Friday night on the occasion of the ice carnival. It is estimated that about 2,000 took part in skating, and that 500 were in the Grand March in fancy costume. As many of these taking part wore masks, their identity was hard to discover.

Prizes were awarded by the judges, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Cook, Jr., and Mr. George E. Farrington, to Miss Mildred McKee, and Miss Dorothy Ticknor, who were dressed in white representing snow. With their gowns trimmed with swans down, and sparkling with beads, they were a charming picture. The first men's prize was awarded to Mr. Mazzur and Mr. Marden, who as the Buster Brown Twins "brought down the house."

The following were among the fancy skaters present: Miss Edith Rotch, Miss Edith Nichols, Miss Edith Sigourney, Miss Martha Brown, Messrs. F. F. Munroe, A. M. Goodridge, Lewis Washburn, C. W. Davis.

The pond was brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns, a space in the centre being reserved for the fancy skaters. A band of about 20 pieces made music on the pond, and there was an orchestra for dancing in the club house. There were many supper parties with guests from the neighboring towns.

The following took part in the Grand March in costume: Jane Brown and Betty Dwinell as Gold Dust Twins with faces blacked; Miss Gordon as Follie Girl; Miss L. M. Henderson as Russian Peasant; Mr. Mazzur and Mr. Marden, prize winners, as Buster Browns; Miss Mildred McKee and Miss Dorothy Ticknor, prize winners, as Snow Girls; Miss Bolster as Turkish Girl; Miss E. Macomber, as Pierrot; Miss E. Snow as Bunny; Miss Turner as Gypsy; Miss Wyeth as Clown; Miss E. Kidder as Little Miss Muffin; Marshall Dwinell as King Arthur; Miss S. Davis as Clown; Miss D. Newton as Jolly Jester; Miss B. Hanson as Dimple Girl; Miss Williams as Swiss Peasant; Miss Kate Cowin as Gypsy; Miss Faith Garrison as Clown; Miss Celia Rogers as Pierrot; Miss E. ## THE COMMUNITY FORUM

Central Church was filled last Sunday afternoon to hear Dr. Tehyi Hsieh of New York, director of the Chinese Trade and Labor Bureau, speak on "China's Situation and Her Success at the Washington Conference." The meeting was held under the auspices of the Newton Community Forum. Dr. Harris, president of the Forum, introduced the speaker.

The speaker in his opening remarks compared the Chinese language with the English language, showing the simplicity of the former, and the significance of its symbolism. He told many amusing anecdotes to illustrate his point.

He then showed the rainbow flag of the Chinese Republic, which represents 480,000,000 inhabitants, one-third of the population of the globe, and said that he wished their sentiments when he expressed his gratitude for what America had done for China.

Speaking of the Washington Conference, he said that this was the first time that China had been able to express her aspirations through her own representative. Hitherto, she had been represented through interpreters, many of whom did not understand her language, and utterly failed to understand her ideals.

China today stands at the crossroads. What the United States has been able to accomplish in regard to the attitude of Japan, the Shantung question, the tariff question, and the Open Door for China, has meant everything for the future of China. China will never forget this. She has already 2600 students in this country studying to be leaders of their country.

Among the elements in China which will lead to a great future for the nation, the speaker mentioned that China now has an established constitutional government, a public opinion guided by 27,000 newspapers, an emancipated womanhood, the eradication of opium, and is soon to have one language, that in spirit China is united in her desire to prove herself worthy of her opportunities.

The speaker paid a tribute to the open diplomacy method of the Washington Conference, and compared President Harding with Lincoln in his emancipation of a race.

At the conclusion of the lecture Dr. Hsieh answered questions which were handed to him. The Newton Choral Society sang two selections, "The Heavens Are Telling" and "Christ in Flanders."

Dutch Boy; Dorothy Newton as Jester; Ester Cook as Clown.

A SPLENDID GIFT

The Newton Young Men's Christian Association has lately received a very generous gift of $10,000 from Mr. Charles E. Riley. This gift will be an inspiration and encouragement to all interested in the work of the Association. The Newton Y. M. C. A. is receiving the consideration of our people in the making of their wills, but wherever possible, how fine it would be to follow the example of Mr. Riley and give while living, that one may see and rejoice in all the beneficent results of his gift.

The first gift to this fund was a legacy from Mrs. Abbie A. Hannaford. Others were received from Mrs. Emma A. Waitt, Mrs. Hutchinson, in memory of Harold Hutchinson, and from Mr. Norman H. George. Francis Murdock, while living, gave a substantial amount for the Endowment Fund, and Mrs. Day has given the Frank A. Day Camp for boys as a memorial to Mr. Frank A. Day.

This Association is now ministering to a thousand young men and boys, and the building is taxed to its utmost capacity. It has been apparent for some time that another story should be added to the building to provide dormitories for young men living away from home.

ANNUAL PASTORS' NIGHT

The Norumbega Christian Endeavor Union held its monthly executive meeting and annual Pastors' Night at the Immanuel Church, Newton, on Tuesday evening.

Supper was served to about 120 young people, the pastors of the various churches in the Norumbega district being the guests of the Union. Mr. John W. Barnett, of Watertown, conducted the devotional exercises. There were the usual reports from the officers and committee chairmen, including the resignation of Earl Lo-max of West Newton as Good Citizenship chairman, and the appointment of Harold Edwards to take his place.

A five-dollar gold piece was presented to Harold Secord of Newton, for winning in a contest recently held in the Union for the presentation of the best slogan. His slogan was "Norumbega First in Unselfish Service."

Rev. L. L. Rae of the North Congregational Church, Newton, counselor for the Union, was also presented with a jeweled pin.

Rev. Amos Rideout, of Waltham, was the speaker of the evening. He took for his topic "Young People: the Church of Tomorrow." He spoke of the importance of vision, getting ready to fulfill some purpose, developing spiritual strength, and building up own lives and reaching others, for us to know Christ.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The following new members have been received at the last two meetings: Mrs. E. F. Sprague, Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon, Miss Luffee, Miss Lordstrom, West Newton; Miss Helen F. Stevens, Newton Centre; Mrs. John L. Sibley, Miss May Pennant, Newtonville.

The Central Church chapel being otherwise engaged for next Tuesday night, the rehearsal of that date will be held at the Universalist church on Washington park at 7.30.

The orchestra holds its first rehearsal next Monday night.

The total membership of the chorus is now 173. Members are urged to attend every rehearsal from now on. Most of the time last Tuesday night was spent on the grand music from "Parsifal," and the members are impressed with the wonderful beauty of this composition.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

A Full Account of the Many Activities of That Interesting Event

Tuesday evening, February 14 the Annual Boy Scout Celebration of one week was concluded. One week of real scouting, in which hundreds of scouts participated, in which many prominent men took a part. This week has given Scouting a real boost and everyone connected with the work in any way feels that such a celebration was opportune.

What Norumbega Scouts Did

Wednesday, February 8, a general Scout Rally for Watertown was held in the assembly hall of Hosmer School. Fully seventy-five scouts in full uniform were present and did their part to make the rally successful. Scout Executive Sharratt called the Rally to order, and explained to the audience the purpose and methods of the Movement. Scoutmaster Rev. H. M. B. Ogilby conducted Colors, and followed it by a short snappy drill. This was followed by an elimination drill conducted by Scoutmasters Ogilby of Troop 2, and Asst. Scoutmaster Bates of Troop 1. Calisthenic exercises were led by the Executive. Following this Scoutmaster Perry of Troop 4, with his troop demonstrated how to care for the injured while out on a hike. This demonstration was very realistic. Troop 11 of Newton was on hand to give a general demonstration of Scouting activity. Under the direction of Mr. J. M. Carley this troop demonstrated the various first aid man's lifts, fireman's drag, pyramid building, first aid to the injured, the use of the trek-cart, etc. The program concluded with all Scouts repeating the Scout Oath and Scout Law, and dismissal under the direction of Scoutmaster Perry followed. The evening was one well worth the time.

Council and Rally
The Annual Winter Indoor Rally was held Friday evening, February 10, at the Newton High School Gymnasium. About two hundred persons, including Scouts, were present. This Rally was informal.

At 7.30 the Scout Executive ordered the Council Bugler to sound Assembly, and immediately placed Mr. Richards W. Cotton, Scoutmaster Tr. 1, Newtonville, in charge of all scouts. This was followed by calisthenic exercise led by Asst. Deputy Commissioner Ovington. Stunt time arriving, Troops 11, 1 and 10, all of Newton, delighted the audience with new and interesting performances.

Presentation of the Swimming awards was made at this time. Mr. John H. Eddy, the donor of the Silver Swimming Trophy was introduced by the Scout Executive and replying made a short but sterling address to the Scouts. He considered Swimming one of the most important things for all scouts to know and was very glad to be able to present the Shield to Troop 4 of Newton Highlands which had secured a total of 103 points throughout the Contest.

Mr. Ovington, the donor of the Swimming Medal, was introduced and took pleasure in presenting the gold medal to Lloyd Hazen, the silver medal to Robert A. Patterson, and the bronze medal to Paul C. Norton, all of Tr. 4, Newton Highlands.

The final awards of Badges were made by Scout Commissioner Benbow to those scouts who had secured the largest number of points in any one event throughout the three meets.

The Rally concluded with Executive Sharratt making a short address to the Scouts upon the significance of the Rally coming as it did on the 12th Anniversary of the Boy Scout Movement; The Scout Oath and Law was repeated by all present; and Scoutmaster Frank E. Lichtenthaler of Troop 4, Newton Highlands dismissed the Rally.

Hike to Winter Camp
Fully seventy-five Scouts from all over the District hiked to the Council's Winter Camp three miles from Needham on Saturday last. Although the day was foggy and rainy when the scouts arrived, everyone claimed that he was having a real scouting time. The boys returned about five o'clock, tired but glad they went.

The final celebration of the week was held in the parish house of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Monday evening at 6.30, when the Scoutmasters and Troop Committeemen of the District were the guests of Rev. Fr. Curtin and Rev. Fr. Haney. Forty-seven men sat down to a genuine dinner and had a real Scout time throughout the hour. Following the banquet, Scout Executive Sharratt, acting as chairman, introduced Fr. Curtin, who as the host extended a hearty greeting to the men who were vitally interested in the boys of the District. Fr. Haney, who is a member of the Council Executive Board was next presented and made a few crisp remarks concerning

POT LUCK

"Pot Luck" is a clever little play in a prologue and three acts written by Edward Childs Carpenter, the well-known playwright. It is fresh from Broadway where Miss Moores had just been playing the part of Amy Jewell, the leading lady, before she came to the St. James Theatre with the Boston Stock Company. Miss Moores is excellent in the part of Amy Jewell and shows us again what a talented actress she is. She is ably supported by Walter Gilbert, Frank Charlton, and the other members of The Boston Stock Company. This is the first time that "Pot Luck" has been put on outside New York, and the Boston Stock Company performs the play in its fine, inimitable style.

A DREAM-SONG OF THE RESURRECTION

John, 6:40.

Raise me up, my Saviour,
Let me Thy love proclaim;
Raise me up, my Saviour,
When Thou comest to reign.

Long will be my slumber,
Forgotten all the pain;
Raise me up, my Saviour,
When Thou comest to reign.

May I be found worthy
To glorify Thy name,
And live in Thy presence,
When Thou comest to reign.

NEWTON COMMUNITY HOME

Owing to the change of residence I regret very much that I was compelled to suspend my work somewhat; but now it has been transferred to the Boy Scouts Building, No. 958 Water-town street, West Newton. The newly organized Girl Scouts troop and Troop No. 12 will have their headquarters here. I propose to make this our community centre; it is large, convenient and adequate for the developing of youths. The building is open every day and the reading room is well attended by the boys and girls; the Forum which meets Sunday afternoon at 4:00 P. M. is drawing large crowds because of its ethical teachings; moral and spiritual atmosphere. A work of this kind must be judged on its merits; by its contribution to the community. Your co-operation with me in this work will be greatly appreciated I am sure; seeing the need is so great the cause at once becomes a worthy one. One of my great needs now is uniforms for my boys troop as some of the boys are unable to earn the money with which to purchase them; so I am trying to help them and also carry on the expense at the building; but I trust that I may be able to get them soon as the boys are very anxious to get out on the road. The building will be open from 8:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. every day and we shall be glad to receive cast-off clothing, books and etc., or telephone calls regarding the same. If in need of some one to do house-work or chore-work by the day or week.

Call Newton Community Home, Tel. 107-R or 1340-R West Newton. Ask for Mr. Hill.—Advertisement.

THE COPLEY THEATRE—With "Mary Broome" Allan Monkhouse will be introduced next Monday at the Copley Theatre as a dramatist to Boston audiences. He is one of the leading members of the Manchester school of English playwrights, and with his associates has given many significant plays to the modern stage, among the most notable being Stanley Houghton's "Hindle Wakes" and Harold Brighouse's "Garside's Career," both of which have been acted by the Henry Jewett Repertory Company. "Mary Broome," it may be noted, has had a successful career both in London and in New York. "Mary Broome" is a comedy, but it is a comedy with an ironic note. Its plot involves Leonard Timbrell, the younger son of a prosperous English family and its titular heroine is the girl with whom he falls in love and eventually marries under paternal compulsion. As she happens to be only a pretty housemaid, difficulties naturally ensue of a personal and social nature that enable Mr. Monkhouse to utilize brilliantly and entertainingly some varied aspects of modern English life.

THE NEWTON CLUB

A very successful bridge was held at the Newton Club last week Wednesday night. There were fifteen tables. Prizes were won by Mr. Henry R. Nash, Mr. Harold Sherman, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Parker F. Schofield, and Mrs. Harold Sherman. The hostesses were Mrs. G. W. Woodcock, Mrs. Parker F. Schofield and Mrs. William Schofield.

One of the most enjoyable events this season at the Newton Club was the masquerade dance last Friday night. The most striking feature was the bridal procession, with Mrs. Joseph Cryan as the bride, dressed in a wonderful gown made of lace curtains. Mrs. Margaret Quimby as the groom, resplendent in a red wig; Mrs. Lloyd Allen as maid of honor; Mr. Lester Hunter as minister, and Mrs. Kenneth Holbrook as bridesmaids. The wedding party carried bouquets of vegetables. The first prize was awarded to Mrs. Joseph Cryan for her bridal costume, and the first men's prize to Mr. F. M. Butts for his diver's costume. Honorable mention was awarded to Mrs. Fred E. Mann, Mr. S. B. Arend and Mr. Archie Wyman. The judges were Mrs. Carl S. Wells, Mrs. Oliver Wyman and Mrs. G. N. Bankart. About 200 were present.

There will be an afternoon whist at the club on Friday, February 24. Mr. William Howlett is the new steward in place of Mr. Piper, who has taken the position of custodian of the Masonic Building.

The bowling team won all four points from the Middlesex Sportsman team Wednesday night in the Newton League bowling match.

CARL ALBERTE AGAIN RESIGNS

The hundreds of friends of the popular manager of Norumbega for many years will learn with regret that he has again resigned. Several seasons ago, while the war was on, the business had fallen off badly. Mr. Alberte betook himself to other fields. After three seasons of absence the directors contrived to induce him to return to his former position. The contract was for two years, which has just expired, February 1. In the meantime it has been decided to change the policy of the park business. The Middlesex and Boston Street Railway will take over the entire management of the park and operate it with railway men on an economical basis. They plan to boom business on the impetus it received last season, which was very gratifying in its results, when the record from other parks was a very bad season and the worst for many years. Mr. Alberte is considering several propositions, as his services are always in demand.

DEATH OF MR. ELLIOTT

Following a brief illness, Sterling Elliott, prominent New England inventor and manufacturer, died Monday in his seventieth year, at 48 Maple street, Newton, his home for forty years. Mr. Elliott, who was president of the Elliott Addressing Machine Company of Cambridge, was born in 1852, at Orion, Mich. In 1880 he removed to Boston, where ever since he has been actively identified with manufacturing and industrial affairs.

When the bicycle industry had its remarkable growth in the early nineties, Mr. Elliott formed a partnership with the late Colonel Pope and manufactured bicycles at Newton and Framingham. Subsequently he became president of the League of American Wheelmen.

He was best known as an inventor, and possibly his invention of greatest interest to the public was the pneumatic-tired-trotting sulky, which instantly superseded the high-wheeled, iron-tired vehicle previously in use. His most important invention was the steering device that is now used on all automobiles. At the time of his death he owned more than forty United States patents, with several patents pending.

The last twenty-five years of his life were devoted to the development of the manufacture of the Elliott Addressing Machine, for the automatic handling of mailing lists and the rapid addressing of circulars, periodicals and other materials sent through the mails. Every part of this machine was of his own invention, as well as much of the special machinery for producing it and the various supplies connected with its operation.

Mr. Elliott was a man of most charming personality, one who made and kept many friends, and a man who will be greatly missed in many fields of social and business activities.

Mr. Elliott is survived by his widow, Harriet Adel (Parker) Elliott; a son, Hamilton P. Elliott, who is treasurer of the Elliott Addressing Machine Company, Cambridge, and a brother, Henry Elliott of Chicago.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Mt. Auburn Chapel.

Rev. Ernest S. Meredith, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, Watertown, conducted the service, and the Meister Singers' Quartet sang several selections to an organ accompaniment by Miss Reynolds.

Nixon Waterman, the well-known poet and writer, who for years was a contributor to the League of American Wheelmen and Good Roads Bulletin, a publication edited by Mr. Elliott, gave a eulogy of Mr. Elliott. He spoke of "Mr. Elliott as I Knew Him." The interment was in the family lot in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

A LONG TERM LEASE

I have interested the Fox Furniture Company, manufacturers and wholesalers in high grade furniture, with many distributing quarters in New England, in a long term lease of a portion of the fine brick block, now being erected by Samuel W. Flax of Cambridge, at the corner of Centre and Jefferson streets, Nonantum Square. In order to satisfy the Fox Furniture Co. requirements it was necessary to change the entire plans of the building so as to finish a store at the corner of Centre and Jefferson streets 40 x 50 with a finished basement of the same dimensions, together with a second story show room covering the entire area of the building, making one unobstructed floor space of about 8000 square feet and a total store space of 12,000 feet, making this the largest Furniture establishment in New England. The second store will be 14 feet studded, making an ideal show establishment for large rugs, carpets, etc. The plans for the Fox Furniture Co.'s stores and show rooms call for 260 feet front, and show windows of heavy plate glass. In consideration of the prominence and unobstructed view of this location from every angle of Nonantum square and vicinity the Fox Furniture Co. should have one of the most thoroughly equipped and handsomest furniture establishments in this section of the country. The Fox Furniture Co.'s lease covers a term of 10 years and involves a total rental of over $60,000. The Fox Furniture Co. should be congratulated upon their splendid judgment in selecting a most desirable location and encouraged by a substantial portion of Newton's local trade. The Fox Furniture Co. expects to be installed in their new home on or before May 1st, at which time the balance of the stores in the block, which are large, light, and spacious, will be completed, and which are mostly under lease at the present time. The construction of this building will involve an expenditure of close to $100,000, and will be pointed at with pride by every citizen of Newton.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

Miss Maryott, educational worker of the Massachusetts Humane Society, visited the school on Friday afternoon and gave a talk illustrated with pictures in the hall.

The school hockey team lost to the Burr School team last Thursday by a score of 5 to 0.

A brief program in memory of Abraham Lincoln was given on Monday morning in the Hall. Each grammar grade had a part on the program. The selections given, though brief, were well done.

The graduating class has a Book Club. Books of standard fiction are read and reported by the members. Impressions gained in reading are given and discussion follows. It is an interesting part of the regular program.

Our health drive continues, with special emphasis on teeth. Over 100 brushes are already placed together with paste or powder. The interest is growing. A white flag floats in each room where there is 100 per cent in brushing each day.

The graduating class had a lantern lecture on Wednesday in connection with the geography lesson.

Miss Dill's class has an interesting eskimo project exhibition.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Louis W. Gasset, the musical program of Friday afternoon, Feb. 10, consisted of a loan collection of new records, blue and red seal. They furnished a pleasant entertainment.

The opera which was to have been given at the Emerson School on Wednesday was postponed to Tuesday, February 21. The opera is under the direction of Miss Ethel Sabin.

On Monday, Mrs. Frank Fanning presented a Valentine to the school of $5 in the name of Little Mary Redcross. The Valentine is to be used for the school.

Burr School

The 8th grade class have now received their class pins.

While studying Industrial Revolution, the 8th grade history classes have enjoyed lectures in the hall by Edward Gammons, Robert Clapp and Richard Miller.

The pupils of the Burr School are going to try for a cash prize offered by the Auburndale Women's Club for the best poster advertising a play they are going to give.

The first week in February marked the beginning of the second half-year. The 7th grade girls now go to West Newton for Domestic Science, while the 8th grade girls sew. They are making serge bloomers for their gymnasium work in the High School next year.

In 7A room different pupils take charge of the opening exercises each morning, and provide the program.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Junior High School meeting, which was scheduled for Tuesday, February 14th, Newton High School, has been postponed until Tuesday, February 28th, because of the illness of Dr. Knowlton, who was to speak on the reorganization of social studies.

The meeting on the 28th will be in the Technical High School Hall, at 2:50 o'clock, as usual.

The Junior class of the Classical High School is giving a dance in the "Gym" on Friday, February 17th.

The public declamation in the Technical High School is creating great interest this year as there will be an exceedingly good entertainment program.

The following members of the faculty are working exceptionally hard to make it a great success: Miss Fiske, Miss Mason, Miss Doonan, Mrs. Newcombe, Mr. Harrington and Mr. Thurber.

Miss Gregory, of the art department, has made some very attractive posters for the occasion which attract the attention of all as they enter the school.

The Glee Club of the Classical High School held a meeting on Wednesday, February 15, in the Assembly Hall.

There have been several autographed volumes added to the Technical High School library recently.

The Junior class of the Technical High School held its first class meeting in the Assembly Hall on Wednesday. President Todd Wallace presided and kept the meeting strictly to parliamentary law.

In 1922 there promises to be a great increase in business, and business requires alert, efficient and well trained workers. The Newton Technical High School, one of the best of its kind, is fitting its students for these responsible positions, and this year letters have already come from large concerns, such as Babson's Statistical Company and the United Fruit for boys and girls to fill positions in their institutions. There will be two more boys chosen to go to Cuba and join Hood and Laffie, graduates of 1921, who are with the United Fruit Company.

As a great many letters have been received asking for graduates of 1922 to fill positions, the school feels that it is accomplishing its purpose and turning out students of the right calibre.

Lasell

On Friday evening the Seminary was the scene of a brilliant reception given by Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Winslow. A delightful musical, which followed the reception, was given by Miss Eichhorn, violinist and D. Winslow Hanscom, tenor.

Mrs. Lucia Ames Meade this morning delivered the last of her series of lectures.

Woodland Park is gaily decorated tonight for the school's Senior party. The entertainment, the Sophomores are giving is in the nature of a children's party with games, refreshments, etc., followed later by dancing. Miss Helen Martin, of New York City, president of the class, and Miss Bertha Carter, Fort Worth, Texas, vice president, are in charge.

Next week will be an interesting and busy one on Wednesday the annual Washington birthday dinner will take place and in the evening the Colonial Party, while on Saturday occurs one of the big season events of the year. The senior dinner dance, which is to be held at Woodland, under the direction of Vera Clavier of So. Bend, Ind., and the president and vice-president of the class, Jean Woodward, Independent Kansas, and Katherine Howe, Helena, Arkansas.

Hyde School

Miss Sampson was welcomed back when she resumed her duties after an absence of over a week.

This morning Miss Maryott, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, gave talks to the pupils of the Hyde School. Miss Maryott delighted the children with her stories and her lantern slides, which were as interesting as they were instructive.

Miss Green's fourth grade felt very proud of the fact that they had no tardy marks during the month of January.

The following hockey games have been played by the Hyde School hockey team:

January 31, 1921, Burr vs. Hyde Junior League game. The game was a hard one and the score was made in the last few minutes of play. Score: Hyde 1, Burr 0.

Goals, Wilkerson.

Stearns School

The Mothers' Club will hold a character party on Monday evening, February 20, at Stearns School. Prizes will be offered and games and music will be on the program. The committee in charge is Mrs. Muse, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Fred Koch and Mrs. Bergen.

Rehearsals for "Patsy," a comedy with music, are being held by the Newton Girls' Club. The two performances are to be held on Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 27th and 28th, at 8 o'clock, in the Stearns School Hall.

Ten pupils from Mr. Dacey's eighth grade held a debate last Friday afternoon. Mr. Brainard, English teacher at the Vocational High School, was the judge. The leader of the affirmative side was Catherine Quinlan, assisted by Margaret Boudreau, Irene Brullette, Joseph Bergen and Thomas Dempsey. The leader of the negative side was Bertha Boisclair, assisted by Hazel Leith, Elizabeth Shorten and George Terrio. Gerard Mazzola made a very capable chairman.

The question was: Resolved: Immigration to the United States should be stopped for a period of five years. The judge decided in favor of the negative side. Irene Brullette, of the affirmative, was awarded a prize for the best individual argument. Hazel Leith and Estelle La Croix, of the negative side, also did particularly well.

Mention should be made of the excellent articulation of all those debating. The entire debate was carried on with much dignity and in strict accordance with the rules governing a debate.

The pupils of Grade VII, Miss Stoddard's room, had a debate Monday. Resolved: Capital punishment shall be abolished in the United States.

Alma Bergson was chairman. The leader on the affirmative side was Wallace Sampson, assisted by Theodore Koslow, George Mailly and Leonard Doucette.

The leader on the negative side was Ralph Samlin, assisted by Gilbert Quinn, Albert Yanco and Hermon Kehoe. The decision was in favor of the negative side.

After his retirement from active duty, he made his home with his daughter, but he always kept in close touch with affairs in his old station and paid frequent visits to his former comrades. For the past two or three years he had not enjoyed good health. In addition to his daughter, he is survived by two sons, Alton F., of Connecticut, and Reuben, Jr., of Quincy.

At the funeral services Sunday afternoon a service of prayer and Scripture reading was conducted by Rev. Frank B. Potter, and selections were read by Willis Goode. The I. O. O. F. ritual exercises were conducted by Noble Grand Roy C. Buck and officers of Newton Lodge.

Large delegations from the Newton Fire Department and the I. O. O. F. acted as escort in the funeral cortege. Interment took place in Newton Cemetery.

FORMER FIREMAN DEAD

Reuben S. Cummings, for forty-two years a member of the Newton Fire Department, prior to his retirement a few years ago, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward J. McCarthy, 46 Chestnut street, Waltham, on Thursday afternoon of last week, following a lingering period of ill health.

Mr. Cummings was the oldest member of the Newton department, in point of service, when he retired late in 1916, having served continuously since May 1st, 1875. During his entire period of service as a fire fighter, he was stationed at West Newton, as Engineer on Engine No. 2. He was considered as one of the most efficient fire engineers in the city and it was said of him, by his superiors that he could get more power out of his engine than any other man who ever operated it.

Being of an inventive turn of mind, Mr. Cummings perfected several devices that were used by the Newton Department, including a contrivance that automatically closed the station doors after the apparatus had left on its way to a fire. He secured the patent rights for this contrivance and always refused to sell it, although he received communications from cities as far distant as Chicago, seeking to secure the patent. He also invented a plan of burning crude oil in a stove and this arrangement is used today in the West Newton Station.

After his retirement from active duty, he made his home with his daughter, but he always kept in close touch with affairs in his old station and paid frequent visits to his former comrades. For the past two or three years he had not enjoyed good health. In addition to his daughter, he is survived by two sons, Alton F., of Connecticut, and Reuben, Jr., of Quincy.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The principal event this week of interest to Newton residents was the hearing on Tuesday morning before the Public Utilities Commission on the proposed loop service which the Boston Elevated Company wishes to install at Braves Field. The hearing room was crowded to the doors largely with residents of Allston and Brighton, and a vigorous protest against the plan was voiced by Representative Hays of Allston, and Representative Heffernan of Brighton. The protest was so strong that before the commission left their seats they revoked the permit granted by them last fall and postponed the hearing until the March 14th, to allow further study to be made of the situation.

Representative Rice's bill, to allow the removal of the mayor of Boston by the action of the Governor and Council, was heard on Wednesday by the Metropolitan Affairs committee, and was, of course, vigorously opposed by Mayor Curley. Mr. Rice has a similar bill available to all cities before the committee on Cities, and this should receive favorable action, as at the present time there is no lawful way in which a mayor of a city or a selectman in towns can be removed, no matter how much he is guilty of malfeasance in office. Boston, however, ought not to be singled out for this kind of legislation alone. There was a continued hearing this week on the proposal to elect judges by the people, and while there was a strong delegation, in point of numbers, in favor, there is but little doubt of the negative action of the committee and the Legislature.

Mr. Thomas W. Procter of Chestnut Hill was one of the leading members of the bar who spoke in opposition to the bill.

Former Congressman Samuel L. Powers was before the Election Laws committee this week in favor of a bill to return to the former system of making nominations by conventions instead of by the direct primary. Mr. Powers undoubtedly represents the sentiments of nine out of ten Republicans, but the General Court is so afraid of the proposition that it is doubtful if anything will be done.

J. C. BRIMBLECOM.

CHANNING ALLIANCE

Rev. Harry Lutz gave a stimulating paper upon "Future and Creative Life" before the Alliance on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Lutz, taking as his text a quotation from Browning's Paracelsus, beginning, "Poets, God ever meant should save the world," answered the questions often put to him: "What do you see in poetry?" "Has it any practical use?" The poet, he said, is an actual creator. In that he conveys truth beyond the facts, and can bring into existence what was not before. Real poetry can never be written to order, hence the poet laureate, unless he can rise above the immediate occasion to the universal things is seldom known beyond his own time. Mr. Lutz identified poetry with religion, since both make for the more abundant life. All great conceptions are first sung in poetry. A real statesman is either a real poet or the poet's co-seer or great appreciator. Such a one he finds Lincoln, as is attested by his worn volumes of Shakespeare. Dante would not have been remembered today had not his Divine Comedy had a deeper significance than that we read upon the surface.

The Alliance choir, with additional voices, rendered very effectively a musical setting of Wordsworth's "Daffodils." Tea was served at the conclusion under the direction of Mrs. Harry C. Wiggin, chairman of the Social Committee.

BOY SCOUT LEAGUE

The Scout Anniversary Week, and the pleasure he had in having his co-workers in Scouting with him to dinner.

The occasion was honored with the presence of Mayor Childs of Newton, who being presented made a short opportune appeal to men to serve the boyhood of the District.

At this time Fr. Haney presented Dr. Pickard of Newton Centre, the leading authority of America in Wireless. Dr. Pickard explained the mechanism of the Radiophone and gave a demonstration of the wireless apparatus he had.

A round table discussion followed in which many men took active interest. The occasion being a joint meeting between the Troop Committee and Scoutmasters afforded each an opportunity to know the others' views.

AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY

On Tuesday evening, February 21, the Immanuel Baptist Church presents Miss Ethel Priscilla Potter, a graduate of Wellesley and of the School of Expression, Boston. Miss Potter is to read "A Kiss for Cinderella." This is one of the most exquisite of Barrie's plays, full of his inimitable charm. Wherever Miss Potter has given it, in our own New England, at Columbia University, throughout the Southern States, she has had the same enthusiastic reception. Besides Miss Potter, the church is fortunate in being able to present Mr. Roland Tapley, a violinist of rare talent. Though only twenty, this is the second year of his connection with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. With two such artists there is absolute assurance of the pleasure in store for us on Tuesday evening.

Some Reasons Why We Should Have Your Battery Business

1. Experienced qualified men.
  2. Sufficient mechanical equipment.
  3. A Policy of Fair, Square Dealing.
- Perhaps to these we should add a fourth:
4. We are the Servic Station for the

With Philco Retainers Guaranteed for Two Years

Nor do we wish to slight this fourth reason. It is no easy matter to secure the Philadelphia Storage Battery Co. Franchise. And it can only be retained when the service to car owners is such as would be expected between a merchant of the highest type and his most exacting customers.

Aside from this we feel a personal pride in representing this battery, knowing as we do that wherever one is sold a friend is created.

"WHO WAS JOHN HANCOCK?"

Thomas A. Edison's famous questionnaire may have "stumped" many applicants seeking employment in his laboratories at Orange, N. J., but it has served a useful purpose in clearing up the point that John Hancock never was president of a life insurance company.

The wizard of Menlo Park included in his questionnaire the question, "Who was John Hancock?" and was most emphatically assured in one of the answers submitted that the aforesaid John is one of the country's leading business men.

This answer suggested to the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company the idea of offering a prize of $100 to the one who gave the best 300-word answer to the question. The contest closed recently, and the judges, after carefully reviewing hundreds of contributions submitted, have awarded the prize to Leon V. Quigley, a junior in the Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Young Quigley is 20 years old and is enrolled in the department of chemical engineering of the Institute.

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

It is always a matter of regret with the Club Editor that the late in the week meetings have to wait over for an adequate report until the next week's issue. It is particularly so when it means postponing the account of a Federation meeting, as it does this week. Since this department was in type before the adjournment of the session yesterday afternoon, the readers will readily understand the delay.

That Hunnewell Club hall was even half filled on an afternoon, such as Wednesday, is an indication of the interest club women have in that organization, and the audience was not confined to Newton people, there being delegates from nearly, if not all, sections of the city.

At last week's meeting of the Newton Community Club the members welcomed once more the chorus who were rendering of Edgar's "Fly, Singing Bird," with violin obligato by Mrs. J. J. The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Payson Smith, Massachusetts Commissioner of Education, and his subject, "Current Problems in Education." In an eloquent and highly entertaining address Dr. Smith pointed out defects of our present school system and set forth what to his mind are the fundamentals, for which the school can carry only a part of the responsibility of the education of the children. ## COMMUNITY WORK NOTES

The College Deputation Team which visited the Newton Y. M. C. A. last week-end put on a very successful program for the boys of the entire city. The program started on Friday evening with a banquet at which there were over sixty-five boys present. Mr. Samuel Hocking of the State Committee for Y. M. C. A. work acted as toastmaster. Mr. H. Lyon of Williams College spoken on things not in the curriculum while E. L. Weiss, former University of Michigan man spoke on "College Ideals."

On Saturday morning there were personal interviews arranged for those boys who wished to settle regarding college and other subjects. Following the interviews there was an athletic program in the Gym followed by a basketball game and a swim.

Sunday morning the college men were used at various church services in Newton and Watertown and in the afternoon they spoke at the Y. M. C. A. to a group of older High School boys. Mr. Weiss spoke on "Why I am a Christian," he was followed by Mr. Lyon who used the topic "A compelling motive." Mr. S. Davies a graduate of Oxford University and now at Harvard, spoke on "A challenge to the individual." The Deputation Trip was held under the auspices of the High "Y" Club of the Y. M. C. A.

A new boys' club for boys from 10 to 13 years of age is being organized at the First Congregational Church. The Community Secretary will be glad to lend his services to any church or other organization where he can be of help in organizing boys' groups.

On Wednesday evening the Men's Class of the First Baptist Church held a supper at which Dr. Emory W. Hunt, former pastor of the church, and now president of Bucknell University, was the guest of honor. Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox acted as toastmaster. There were responses from Dr. Arbuckle, and Mr. Albert L. Scott, the leader of the class. Dr. Hunt spoke of the increasing brotherly relationships between the nations of the world, referring to the Peace Conference. There were 105 people present at the supper, which was in charge of the Social Committee of the Men's Class.

Following the supper the ladies of the church held a reception to Dr. and Mrs. Hunt in the vestry of the church. There were about 250 present at this gathering.

THE AUBURNDALE BROTHERHOOD

Owing to the regrettable confinement in hospital, for operation for appendicitis of Mr. Felix Ranlett, the secretary of the Auburndale Brotherhood, his duties will be performed for the time by Mr. John Turner, the vice president of the Brotherhood. Mr. Ranlett, who has been especially efficient as secretary, is doing well after his operation. The Brotherhood has made a change in policy regarding place of meetings and propose to meet occasionally in the Methodist parish house, as it did in January, in order to make clear its principle of having no denominational connection, as was not clear when all meetings were held with the Congregationalists. There is no distinction of class or creed in the membership. The purpose of the Brotherhood is to fill a need of Auburndale for the promotion of neighborly acquaintance and to increase the attractions of the village as a desirable and homelike place for living. For the next meeting the committee on entertainment has secured Mr. Ralph B. Wilson of the Babson Institute in Wellesley, who has the reputation of being an entertaining speaker on current business matters. The Brotherhood has made a gratifying increase of membership this season and the prospect is decidedly brighter than at the beginning of its year, with better appreciation of its fulfilling a function not filled by any other organization.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

tached their car to a hospital train bound for Tomsk—Mr. Crane remarked that the trains never started on schedule time. He described the beautiful Lake Balkal, surrounded by mountains, and the city of Irkutsk, the old capital of Siberia, where the conditions were the worst they saw in Russia. Here they gained much information from the bishop, whom they finally discovered in an attic room.

Mr. Crane described Tomsk as a most delightful place—the intellectual centre of Siberia in the old days, famous for its university. One of the professors, speaking of the present situation, said that the intellectual and moral starvation was more pitiable than the physical—that there had been no communication with the outside world for four years.

Omisk was characterized as the "Chicago" of Siberia—commercially a very important city. Passing through Ekaterinburg, Vyatka and Caroslawo, the party finally reached Moscow on July 25. Here the people lived in such a state of fear that the front doors were not used, and it was difficult to locate friends. The Patriarch of the Russian church there was virtually a prisoner under the Terrorist committee. In spite of the oppression of the government, however, the Russian church has great influence with the people and the services are crowded.

After a short stay in Petrograd, the party left Russia by way of the Baltic provinces, after a journey of a little more than two months.

Mr. Crane mentioned with appreciation the Chinese cook as an invaluable member of the expedition, saying that he would go out with a basket filled with rubles and return with the basket filled with food. He also managed to find compatriots who could be induced to do laundry work.

D. R.

The February meeting of the Sarah Hall Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution was held at the Newton Club on Monday, February 13.

The program of the afternoon was in the hands of Miss Kate Fox. The society was fortunate in having the two sons of Past Regents, Mr. Charles L. Pearson and Mr. Clair Leonard furnish the music. Mr. Pearson, who is a member of the Harvard Glee Club, sang several bass solos, and Mr. Leonard accompanied him on the piano.

Following this, Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, formerly pastor of Channing Church, Newton, gave a patriotic address.

The hostesses of the afternoon were Miss A. Gertrude Eusner, Mrs. Frank B. Fletcher, Miss Mary Fox, Miss Kate Fox, Miss Lucretia Fuller and Mrs. Franklin Ganse.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PROBLEMS

An all day conference on "Administration Problems" of the Sunday School" is to be held on Wednesday, February 22, from 10:30 A. M. to 5:30 P. M., for all pastors, Sunday School Superintendents, Departmental Superintendents and other S. S. officers, also for members of church religious education committees.

This Conference is to take place in Waltham, at the First Baptist Church, and is under the general leadership of Mr. E. A. Greene, Supt. of the Newton Centre Baptist Church School and Mr. R. O. Walter, President of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association.

All above named officers from all parts of the Norumbega District are invited to come, to submit topics for discussion and to take part in the discussion. Topics and speakers already announced are as follows:

"Fundamentals of organization," H. C. Meserve, Secretary of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

"Organization of the Sunday School," Everett A. Greene, of Newton Centre.

"What the Church has a right to expect from its Sunday School," Wm. H. Timbie, Supt. of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Sunday School.

A MINSTREL COMEBACK

The Newton Catholic Club minstrels, who scored such a big success in their annual four-night performance in November last—in response to a general demand—are to attempt a "comeback" stunt with the same show brought right up to date, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 20 and 21, at the club hall, West Newton.

The show, a cross between a musical comedy and minstrel show, has an original rip-roaring, novel and original plot that convulsed packed audiences in the fall, and promises to fully maintain its appeal in the coming performances.

Among its other attractions are Mulligan and Mulligan, from the West, claimants of the world's indoor golf championship, who will illustrate the finer points of the game; Charlie Laffie, "Dot" Cunningham, Mary Rogers, Frank McDermott, Paul Ryan, John Kite, Joe Salvia, Bob Cunningham, Agnes Shinnick, Helen Brennan, Agnes Shinnick, Mae Monahan, Peg Quinn, Red O'Callaghan, Katherine McDermott, Timothy O'Callaghan, Frank Kane, Marie Laffie, Catherine

CENTRAL CLUB LADIES' NIGHT.

On Wednesday evening the members of Central Club of Central Church, Newtonville, celebrated Ladies' Night by a banquet, followed by an interesting program.

At the banquet the ladies were presented with dainty valentines, on which was printed the program of the evening.

After dinner speeches were made by Mr. Irving O. Palmer on "The Club Woman"; Mr. Philip Patey on "Teachers"; Mr. Austin H. Deatur on "Home Life"; and Mr. Fred A. Mann on "Woman as a Driver of an Automobile." The latter took the form of a poem. The speeches were full of wit, and the local hits were much appreciated by the ladies present. Mr. Goring Harris acted as toastmaster.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. John Clair Minot of the Boston Herald, and his subject, "The Best Novels of the Year."

Mr. Minot in a very informal way spoke of the ten "Best Sellers" among the novels of the year, commenting briefly on each. He noted that the best sellers are usually books which appeal primarily to women, but that, "If Winter Comes," which heads the list for this year, is primarily a man's book.

After, "If Winter Comes," the following novels were mentioned in order: "Erick Dawn," "Her Father's Daughter," "Ten of the Old House," "Pride of Palomar," "The Sheik," "Freedom" (not yet published), "The Obstacle Race," "To Him That Hath," and "Brass." The two leading novels of last year, "Main Street," and "The Brimming Cup," were also touched upon.

Mr. Minot called attention to the fact that half of these novels were by American authors, and half by English authors, but that there were very few from New England. Though in other lines she is holding her own, Boston, and New England generally, seems to be lacking in fiction. There seem to be none to take the places of such writers as Clara Louise Burnham, Laura E. Richards, Alice Brown and other well known authors.

"If Winter Comes" is one of the books which is equally famous in America and in England. This is due in part to the problems with which it deals, in part, to the splendid characterization of the hero, and in part to its masterly style.

"Erick Dawn" is a novel of Japanese propaganda, and as such is particularly popular on the Pacific coast.

"The Sheik" is noteworthy as a colorful picture of the desert.

"Erick Dawn" is a strong novel, very popular in England, but little known in America.

"Her Father's Daughter" is another of Mr. Jean Stratton Porter's novels, "quite harmless."

It is more than a coincidence that the two most popular novels of last year, "Main Street," and "The Brimming Cup," deal with the problem of readjustment in married life. The biographical novel of protest, like "Erick Dawn," is typical of the novels of today, particularly among young Americans.

In conclusion, the speaker said that on the whole, English novels were better written than American, in that English writers pay more attention to plot and structure than do Americans.

The address was preceded and followed by a very excellent musical program, in which Mr. John Metz, violinist, was assisted by Miss Lillian West.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church, Newton, will be the speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday evening, February 27th. Members of the club are looking forward to this talk by Dr. MacLure. Two weeks ago Dr. H. Grant Person spoke on American Wit and Humor, and last week Mr. Vernon B. Swett, of the Newton Planning Board, on the Zoning System. Supper will be served at 6.30 to all those who care to come early. The speaking will begin at 7 o'clock.

Mr. S. J. Cunningham of Weston will meet the golf enthusiasts on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, on the indoor golf course.

The class taking a course in Business Law have just taken their examinations and are ready to begin a course in Business Letters. The class in Public Speaking, which meets on Wednesday evening, now numbers twenty-three. This is one of the most popular courses at the Association.

The pool tournament started Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. and brought in a large number of entries. On Washington's Birthday the three best players in the boys' department challenged the men, and some interesting contests were pulled off. The result was a tie score.

On Saturday evening, March 4th, two teams from the Medford Club will bowl Boston Pins with two teams from the Newton Y. M. C. A.

Boys' Division Notes

On last Saturday afternoon, in the boys' games room, a handicap pool tournament was played off. Mike Macdonald, scratch, won. Les Baker, with a handicap of three balls, second; Freddie Becker, with a handicap of three balls, third. All matches, with a few exceptions, were closely contested. Cups were presented to these first three men, while the "Boobie" prize went to George Van Buskirk, he having been given a handicap of ten balls, and being matched against John Coffey, a scratch man, and only getting one ball while Coffey was making his twenty-five ball game.

The next tournament will be run off in March, a handicap for Grammar School boys, and a scratch meet for High School boys.

Newton Y. M. C. A. Boys' Division Notes

On Sunday afternoon, February 26th, at 3 o'clock, Edward Eagan will talk to boys and men on "Manhood." Mr. Eagan is one of the champions turned out during the World War, being declared middleweight champion while competing at the Inter-Ally boxing bouts at Paris. He is an all-round athlete. While at Yale he was the leading boxer, one of the mainstays on the Varsity football team, and a good performer in track. All men and boys welcome. Music by the "Y" orchestra, also singing, in charge of Mr. Wm. Fern.

Champion Swimmers and Divers at Newton Y. M. C. A. Tonight at 8.15

Providence Y. M. C. A. swimming team, composed of three national, one New England champion, and others, are coming to compete against the Newton Y. M. C. A. two state champions tonight.

This will be the biggest attraction held in the local tank this season. It isn't often that a team of such calibre comes to town, and all Newton supporters ought to turn out in force.

To date, Newton hasn't lost a meet. Everybody out tonight at 8.15. Reserved seats.

AUBURNDALE AROUSED

Lively Hearing before Board of Aldermen on Proposed Widening of Commonwealth Ave. and Auburn St. Laborers Get Half Holiday on Saturdays for Eight Months

Auburndale turned out in force on Monday night at the meeting of the aldermen to favor a widening of the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Auburn street near the Church of the Messiah, and intended to prevent Mr. P. A. McVicar from carrying out his intention to erect three two family houses at that point. Mr. Henry L. Goodman, president of the Auburndale Improvement Society, opened the hearing and presented a strong petition in favor from that organization. Rev. P. M. Wood, rector of the Church said that this intersection was a dangerous place and that he had to wait full five minutes on Sundays to be able to cross the automobile traffic on the avenue. The proposed buildings would be within 5 feet of Auburn street and 3 feet of the avenue and would greatly increase the danger by obstructing the view. He said he would much prefer making a protest now than to preach a funeral sermon later. Dr. G. M. Winslow believed it wise to protect this corner before it was too late. Mr. Edgar Ward and Mr. Charles Angell favored the widening and Mr. Brewer Whitmore made the interesting statement that Commonwealth avenue carried the second highest amount of automobile traffic in the United States. He urged that even billboards should be kept off the land in question. Messrs. Herbert E. Smith, Chas. R. Barker, T. M. Connelly and B. D. Solomon spoke in favor. Mr. Edgar F. Power opposed the project saying that this taking would leave only a garden plot for use and asked for protection as a taxpayer for the past 10 years. Mr. McVicar said that the taking would seriously injure his land. That Commonwealth avenue was laid out by skilled engineers and the corners were safe. He charged that the matter had been advocated by the Church and told how the church had pre-empted the right of way between his property and theirs and had refused to close up the right of way and allow him to use his part of the way. He had paid taxes on the land for 22 years and expected to invest $30,000 which would be taxable by the city. He had received a permit for this work (five years ago) and had paid $450 out for plans. The land had cost him $4705 in June, 1899, and he would sell it for 50¢ on his investment. He ridiculed the idea of danger at this corner saying that only one vehicle in 200 made the turn from Commonwealth avenue into Auburn street.

There was no interest in hearings on underground telephone conduits in Hammond street, on a gasoline permit for the Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Co. on Chestnut street, on proposed curbing on Webster street and Green street and on a building line on Walnut street and on Lincoln avenue.

Mr. H. M. Holmes opposed the laying out of Crofton road if it was intended to build a sewer, and Mrs. Mahoney opposed a building line on Lincoln avenue at Walnut street.

There was considerable interest in the proposal to widen Dedham and Walnut streets from the Boston line to Poyston street. Messrs. A. A. Hartmann, John Cannon and ex-Alderman P. M. Blake spoke in favor and Mr. G. M. Stone in opposition.

A building line was favored by residents of Hunnewell hill on Washington street, to be 20 feet instead of 25 feet.

The following jurors were drawn for civil court next month: Edward Cooper, Williams street; Edward T. Kellaway, Wyman street; Edwin C. Vose, Cabot street, and Gardner C. Walworth, Ward street. These jurors were drawn for criminal court: Albert J. Steadman, Austin street; Albert C. Blount, Jr., Sterling street, and H. C. Norris, Grove street.

Mayor Childs sent in the reappointment of James A. Waters as a registrar of voters for three years, and the claims of Mrs. Evelyn Burgess, Miss Edith Collington and George H. Hands.

Petitions of M. C. Laffie, for auctioneer license; John Watt, Oakland avenue, and Helen P. Courley, Annawan road, for private garages; of W. E. Tomlinson for first class license to sell second-hand automobiles; of the Telephone Company, to lay underground conduits in Washington street, at Lower Falls, at Crafts street and at Margin street, and in Elmwood street, were granted.

The Newtonville Improvement Society asked for a parking space on Washington street, between the street railway track and the railroad fence, curbing was requested on Dalby street, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs asked that the Forestry division of the street department be made a separate department, and there are several applications for soldiers' relief.

The request of the School Committee for reconsideration of the vote whereby it was refused $3,500 for making changes in the new Junior High School building, now being erected in Newtonville, was taken up late in the session. Alderman Nichols requesting some one who voted with the majority to make the motion to reconsider. There was a deep silence for several minutes, after which a half hour was wasted in debate what to do with the request of the School Committee, and it was finally decided to merely place it on file.

Leave to withdraw was granted on a sewer in Underwood avenue, on the claim of J. F. Connelly, and on requests of G. L. Avery, Walnut street, Eben H. Ellison, Washington street, for gasoline permits; of M. Shain for second-hand dealer, and of G. H. Hosen for a victualer's license. No action was deemed necessary on request of W. F. Brennan for abatement of street watering assessment on Algonquin road.

Herbert Swanson was granted a 14-car garage at 1174 Beacon street; J. D. McMullin, an 8-car repair shop at Rogers street, and James Mitchell, a private garage at Waldorf road.

A majority report of leave to withdraw, on request of M. Norton for a 4-car repair shop on Adams street, was debated at length. Alderman Ross said that inasmuch as the permit granted Norton for a one-car garage did not specify the dimensions of the building, it was doubtful if any action could be taken which would not have to go to the courts for settlement. Norton had built a garage large enough for four cars, and he favored granting the present permit, but having future permits give exact dimensions. Alderman Carter said that the ordinances ought to be respected. Alderman Ball said he had interviewed Norton when the first permit was granted and felt sure that Norton understood the whole situation at that time. The report was not accepted.

cepted, only six aldermen voting in favor, and the permit was then granted.

The appointments of Oswald J. McCourt as Overseer of the Poor, Wm. C. Brewer as a member of the Playground Commission, and Dr. C. Arthur Boutelle as inspector of animals were confirmed.

On recommendation of the committee $10,000 was voted for care of trees, and a Saturday half-holiday for city laborers granted for eight months, beginning March 1st. On this matter Alderman White stated that this action was taken now, and that the extension to the whole year would be considered in connection with the annual budget.

Hearings were assigned on sewer in Neholiden road, on taking all the McVicar land, corner of Auburn street and Commonwealth avenue, and on a building line on Highland avenue.

Changes in the building code regarding chimneys, piazzas and balconies, requiring fire proof partitions in blocks of stores, and fireproof walls in stores within five feet of lot lines were approved.

Several applications for soldiers' relief were also granted.

Alderman White presented an order for legislation to provide for two-year terms for members of the School Committee. Mr. White said that school committees now had great powers and they should be kept closer to the people. Under three terms it would usually take two elections to effect a change in a majority of the board. His order would call for four members to be elected at the same time as a mayor, and three members on the off year, making it possible to change the political complexion of the board in one year. The matter was referred.

The board reverted to the pernicious custom of holding recess committee meetings, upwards of an hour being taken for this purpose.

Adjourned at 11.30 P. M.

AUBURNDALE BROTHERHOOD MEETS

The February meeting of the Auburndale Brotherhood in the Congregational Chapel Tuesday evening was entertained by an exceptionally valuable address by Mr. Ralph B. Wilson, of the Babson Institute in Wellesley, on the business situation. It was illustrated by a clock diagram showing the cycle of business conditions from the peak of prosperity downward through growing inefficiency, moral decadence, crime and unemployment, until the bottom is reached in the crowding of people into smaller quarters in order to save rent, thus relieving the house problem. Then the recovery begins through enforced economy, growing thrift, religious activity, rising prices of bonds and stocks, improved wages, and so on until the cycle is ended and prosperity reigns again, preparatory to another cycle. Mr. Wilson thought we are now at the bottom of the depression, though the beginning of thorough recovery may not be seen till fall.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Stephen E. Wright, to promote the finances of the Brotherhood, reported an unexpected and gratifying popular support and belief in the value of the Brotherhood to the community. The committee more than went over the top in subscriptions. A committee was voted to plan for an entertainment under the auspices of the Brotherhood. A revision of the constitution was adopted, making marked improvements. Altogether, the outlook for the remainder of the season and for the coming year is exceptionally encouraging.

On Monday evening, Feb. 27, Newton Council, No. 167, K. of C., will hold a whist party and entertainment at the club house on Walnut street, Newtonville, for members and their guests. A number of beautiful prizes have been donated for the whist winners, and an excellent entertainment has been arranged to follow the presentation of these prizes. Several vocal solos by members of the Council, Messrs. Kern, Joyce, and an interesting sketch by Mr. Tabaldi and Sig. Antonelli, which they are presenting on B. F. Keith's circuit, will make the evening a pleasant and enjoyable one. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the entertainment. The following committee has been appointed to make arrangements for the evening: Mr. Percy Keating, chairman; Mr. D. Walter Kern, Jr., secretary; Mr. Edwin C. Heislain, Jr., treasurer; Mr. Basil Durbin, Mr. Louis Tabaldi, Mr. Thos. Black.

HIRD-FRANCIS

On Wednesday morning a pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized at the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Walter J. Roche, when Miss Helen Louise Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Francis, of Bridges avenue, Newtonville, was married to Mr. Walter Illingsworth Hird, of Newark, New Jersey. The bride was attended by Miss Rose Heislain, while the best man was Mr. D. Walter Kern, Jr. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the church. A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home to intimate friends of the bridal couple. After an extended trip to Washington and Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Hird will open their new home in Roslindale.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has changed the location of its office to 277 Washington street, Newton, the Bacon building, Room 24. The telephone number is Newton North 1153-W.

The special committee authorized at the January meeting of the Chamber to consider the advisability of establishing a credit rating bureau for the benefit and protection of Newton business men has been appointed by Chairman Rupert C. Thompson of the Reorganization Committee. The personnel of this committee includes George J. Martin of West Newton, G. Wilbur Thompson of Newton Centre, Thomas B. Cox of Newtonville, Robert H. Evans of Newton, and Andrew J. Ford of Newton.

The other committee authorized at the January meeting, one to include eleven representatives of the eleven villages of the city to assist the aldermanic zoning committee, and the local committees being appointed to determine the best form of zoning ordinance, and the committee to consider the development of a plan for the solution of the traffic congestion problem at Nonantum square, are being chosen and will be announced in the near future.

The plan followed at the January meeting, when the entire meeting was devoted to the consideration of local problems, proved so popular with members that the adoption of a similar program for the next meeting is being carefully considered. The Chamber has a long list of other matters and Newton problems which it has been asked to bring up at future meetings. The next meeting will also be the annual meeting, when officers will be nominated and elected for the ensuing year.

CIVIC CLUB MEETS

The Civic Club of Newton, composed of gentlemen who have held some elective office in the city government, held its annual meeting Tuesday night at the Newton Club. A banquet was served at 6.30 o'clock and Ex-Alderman Edward P. Bosson, the president, was toastmaster for the speaking which immediately followed.

The chief guest of the Club was County Commissioner Walter C. Wardwell, a former mayor of Cambridge. Mr. Wardwell spoke on the county side of the present issue regarding state control of penal institutions. He urged careful consideration of the matter, arguing that the county officers had had many more years of experience in handling prisoners than the present state officials, that it was absolutely necessary to have the jails convenient to the courts and that, with an average sentence of but two months, it was impossible to do very much in the way of teaching a trade to prisoners.

Alderman Philip Nichols gave a clear and interesting statement regarding the proposed zoning ordinance and the manner in which the local communities were regarding it.

The secretary, J. C. Brimblecom, related some reminiscences of his 35 years of service at City Hall.

The following officers were elected: President, Joseph W. Bartlett; Executive Committee, J. B. Jamieson, Arthur W. Hollis and Guy M. Winslow; Secretary-Treasurer, J. C. Brimblecom.

"LIVE ON AND BE HAPPY"

A lecture that is going the rounds, given by the International Bible Students' Association, and attracting a lot of attention in the theological world, is "Millions Now Living Will Never Die."

Mr. M. V. Davis of Boston will lecture on the above topic next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Odd Fellows Hall, 1156 Walnut street, Newton Highlands.

The above mentioned association is an active body of Christians, claiming to adhere as closely as possible to the doctrines and methods of the Apostolic days in teaching and preaching. They claim also that the light of the Gospel shines brighter and brighter as time progresses unto the perfect day. They assure the world, by virtue of close watch and diligent study of prophecy, that we are now in the transition period from the old order to the new and nearing the restoration period. St. Peter spoke about in his first sermon after Pentecost and recorded in Acts 3:19-21.

For over 40 years prior to 1914 they claimed that this date would manifest a beginning of the new era, but the first symptoms would be a dissolution of the Gentile Kingdoms in Europe. History records the fact that their deductions were not far astray. Following in the wake of the great World War are famines and pestilences.

To what extent their teachings are correct that many now living will pass through the most serious time of trouble just ahead and live on indefinitely, time alone will tell. Certainly their elucidation of the 24th Chapter of Matthew is interesting to say the least. No collections are ever taken at any of their meetings—this one in Newton Highlands being no exception to the rule.

This same lecture will be delivered by B. A. Anderson of Boston in Norumbega Hall, Auburndale, Sunday, Feb. 26, at 3 P. M.

BOOK ON AUCTION BRIDGE

The Lothrop, Lee and Shepard Co. have just published a book on auction which will interest lovers of the game.

Auction, most interesting of card games, often gives a surprising amount of information through inferences that can be drawn from the bidding, the dummy hand, and the four cards played to a trick. Its enjoyment increases with the skill acquired in "reading" the fall of cards, and applying the information thus obtained.

The Play of Auction Hands, after a sound discussion of fundamentals, shows in a series of one hundred hands the various forms of card strategy, together with the reasons that determine the play; thereby enabling one soon to enter into the higher pleasure of the game more fully than can be done from years of ordinary playing.

The author's unusual knowledge is placed at the disposal of all who care to share it. Mr. Denison won the closest Whist Tournament recorded, winning by a hundredth of a trick over his nearest competitor, the late J. B. Elwell, after sixteen weekly seasons of play (49.66 tricks to 49.65).

Hence, to read this book is to be admitted to a wider acquaintance with Auction than falls to the lot of any save the most expert. It can benefit all, from the novice to those interested only in advanced problems.

The author, Mr. Edward E. Denison of Portland, Me., has been a guest at the Hunnewell Club with his friend and publisher, Mr. Warren F. Gregory of this city.

MOXLEY—MacDONALD

Last Saturday afternoon at the Swendenborgian Church, Newtonville, Miss Ruby MacDonald became the bride of Alfred George Moxley of Boston. Miss MacDonald is a daughter of Mrs. Sarah MacDonald of 58 Highland avenue, Newtonville, and of the late Donald MacDonald. She is a member of the executive committee of the Women's City Club, and has an unusually wide acquaintance.

Mr. Moxley, who is the son of Edwin Moxley of Bristol, England, has made his home in Boston for several years. He is the president and treasurer of the Boston Hide &amp; Leather Co., incorporated. He belongs to the Victorian Club, Boston City Club and the Wollaston Golf Club.

For the half-hour preceding the ceremony, J. F. Hartwell, organist of the church, played a program of selections which were of nuptial character, while guests were assembling for the wedding. He played later customary processional and recessional wedding marches.

The guests were seated by the following-named ushers: Allyn Brewster MacIntire, Richard E. Williams, Arthur H. Showalter and Claude A. Pifer.

Miss MacDonald was escorted to the altar by her only brother, D. Newton MacDonald, by whom she was given in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Goddard, minister of the church. Miss MacDonald's only attendant was her sister, Miss Flora MacDonald, and the bridegroom's attendant best man was Captain W. Gordon MacEwen.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white chiffon cloth, with train, and trimmed with duchesse lace and silver threads, the entire costume marked by simplicity. With this a veil of tulle and duchesse lace was worn, the lace arranged in cap effect and held in place by a small wreath of orange blossoms. The bouquet which was carried was of white roses and white sweet peas. Miss Flora MacDonald was given in gray crepe de chene, with which she wore a large Gainsborough hat of purple velvet, with gray ostrich plumes. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the social rooms of the church. The bride's mother, Mrs. MacDonald, who was in the receiving line, wore a gown of soft silk in the lavender and orchid shades, trimmed with rich lace.

Mr. Moxley and his bride are to spend their honeymoon in Maine, and on their return are to live at the Gray Chambers, 20 Mount Vernon street, Boston, where after March 25 they will be "at home" to their friends.

DEATH OF MR. BARKER

Mr. Hiram Eustis Barker, an old and well known resident of Newton, died at his home on Hyde avenue, Newton, on Sunday, following several months of failing health.

Mr. Barker was born in Brighton, Mass., January 4, 1842, and had just passed his 80th birthday. He was educated in the public schools of Brighton, at Chauncey Hall, Boston, and at the English and Classical School at West Newton. Upon leaving school Mr. Barker immediately entered the family business of manufacturing starch, in which business he was engaged all his life. He was a former director of the Newton National Bank and of the Newton Trust Company and was also a former director and always deeply interested in the Newton Y. M. C. A. He was the oldest male member of Eliot church and was a charter member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Barker is survived by his widow, Abby A. Barker, a son, ex-Alderman Walter H. Barker of Newton, and a daughter, Mrs. George C. (Ida A.) Ewing of Newton Centre. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from his late residence on Hyde avenue, Rev. H. Grant Person, pastor of Eliot church officiating, and the interment was at the Newton Cemetery.

SHERLOCK HOLMES

Everyone will be glad to hear of the revival of the play "Sherlock Holmes" which is to be played next week at the St. James Theatre by The Boston Stock Company. The stories of Sherlock Holmes, by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, are well known to us all, and the original production with Mr. Gillette as playwright and actor is remembered by many as having wonderful success both here and in England.

The scene in the Stepmother Gas Chamber, a remote underground cell—a virtual prison—is thrilling beyond comprehension—how Holmes enters the cell alone to recover the packet and faces Professor Moriarty and his criminal unaided; and the miraculous way in which he escapes cannot be told—it must be acted. The entire Company acting as a unit puts on as finished a production as the original.

NEWTON COMMUNITY HOUSE

No. 958 Watertown Street, W. Newton

The work that this house is destined to do towards developing a group of people is amazing. It must better conditions in our community, and we are in hopes that the house will meet with much success in the spring. Whatever support that persons may lend to this work will be helping a cause that is in our midst. We have attached to this Community House a Boy Scouts troop and a recently organized Girls' Scouts troop. Captain Hutton and Lieutenant Hill are in charge of the new troop and are receiving instructions at the Unitarian Church every Friday morning. From all indications this troop will make an impression in the council. These troops, nor the house to which they are a part, are not for colored exclusively, but offers the same privilege to the white boy and girl alike. We invite all to attend our open house on Sunday at 4 P. M., also to any activities of this house; while the founder is colored the privileges are accorded to all alike. Mr. Hill will be glad to give persons information regarding this work. I have a nice young man that could be used for butler work in some family; others for chorework and girls for housework by the hour or week. Call

A NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. C. I. Dearborn of 124 Jewett street, Newton, narrowly escaped death early Wednesday afternoon when the rear bumper of his automobile was struck by the locomotive of a westbound freight train at the street crossing of the Watertown branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad, throwing it into the air for a distance of 30 feet.

The machine landed on all four wheels, rolled some distance along the ties and finally toppled over; but Dearborn escaped without a scratch, and the only injury to the car was two broken rear wheels. The accident resulted from the windshield becoming encrusted with snow and sleet, causing Dearborn to crash through the gates at the Spring street crossing, directly in the path of the oncoming freight train. He cleared the tracks just as the locomotive came down on him, the pilot just striking the rear bumper of his car.

MR. ALLEN PRAISED

The following extract from a Boston Herald editorial shows how the people feel about Hon. J. Weston Allen, the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, and a resident of Newton Highlands:

"Never before in the history of Massachusetts has it fallen to a state officer to render more distinguished and commendable service than that which Mr. J. Weston Allen has completed in his cleaning up of the judicial situation in Middlesex and Suffolk counties. It was a task of seemingly insuperable obstacles. It meant facing an every hand, interested and disinterested; active and merely obstructive; but he has 'won out.' He has made his case. He has delivered the goods."

DEATH OF MISS HEWES

Miss Katherine E. Hewes, for many years the soprano soloist at the Church of Our Lady, died last Tuesday at her home, after a long illness. Miss Hewes was 50 years of age and was employed as a manager of one of the departments in the Silver Lake Cordage Mill. She resided with her mother on Watertown street, Nonantum.

The funeral services, a solemn high mass, were held at the Church of Our Lady yesterday.

Service—Without Shamming

Unfortunately in most business, so-called "service" is largely a sham: From the half-hearted whisk-brooming of the Pullman porter to the final "inspection" of the automobile tester, service seems to be more a matter of appearance than helpfulness.

We cannot offer you the usual kind of Service, but we do offer the kind you will tell your friends about.

And it isn't the result of luck or coincidence. We've planned and studied to be helpful, rather than to appear helpful.

You will put up with any kind of Service in a pinch—but you are going to be a permanent customer of the man who gives you the greatest satisfaction all of the time.

That's what we've based our plans on; to give you the greatest satisfaction all the time.

That's why we recommend the Philadelphia Diamond Grid Battery with Philco Retainers.

Mason School

The eighth grades of the Mason School held their first class meeting on Friday last, with the class president, Eleanor Phillips, in the chair. A pleasing program was given, and a new class secretary, C. Noyes, was chosen, the former secretary, E. Barrett, having left school to prepare for a private school in the fall.

Fire alarm boxes are being placed on the first and second floors within the corridors shut off by the fire doors. Now the fire alarm signal can be heard easily throughout the building.

Miss Marriot gave an interesting lecture, with lantern slides, on kindness to animals. It was greatly enjoyed by all the boys and girls.

Spring is surely on the way, for today the writer saw in Mr. Paul's office the numerous packages of garden seeds sent by the government for free distribution.

Mutual Savings banks were formed that people who are not rich might have a place to put their money where it is absolutely safe and will pay them a reasonable dividend.

All the money in a mutual bank belongs to its depositors. They alone own the bank. They alone profit by its growth.

Why not start and maintain a savings account, in this institution, thus becoming a part owner of it yourself?

Next pay day is a good time to start.

M. V. DAVIS

—JUDGE RUTHERFORD

THE MOST MOMENTOUS EVENT OF EARTH'S HISTORY is the near establishment of God's kingdom among men; but, strange to say, this dominating theme of the Bible has been almost entirely overlooked by those who profess the Christian religion. Every one of the inspired writers testified concerning a time of everlasting happiness for the human race—"times of restoration" of lost blessings and possessions. Jesus and his Apostles preached that this gospel of blessing is for the vast majority; not a message of woe for all except a few.

THE KINGDOM OF GOD which they heralded is the same as foretold by the prophets in such thrilling and positive language. Not a mysterious, intangible arrangement having no meaning for the toiler and the sufferer, but one which will bring such practical and understandable things as complete health, beautiful homes, luxuriant vegetation, sublime climate, righteous laws and—greatest of all—unending life upon the earth.

THE SCRIPTURES are clear in their proclamation that many people will be so favored as to live through the present transition period when mankind passes from the thralldom of Satan's misrule to the glorious liberty of the kingdom of God, and these will actually never die. It is your duty and privilege to inform yourself concerning the cause of the present universal unrest and the wonderful blessings to follow by attending the lecture by

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Those club women who heard Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at the meeting of the State Federation at Allston last week, could not but be impressed with the woman herself, with her high ideals, her broad vision, and her vivid address. She does not soar on flights of oratory in the same way as did Mrs. Pennybaker, but her simple manner of speech, her keen sense of humor, and her ability to picture the great things of the conference, and at the same time touch it up with the little human interests and sidelights, held her audience completely during what might have been a dry as dust recital. Those who remember her father could not but think of him as she was speaking, and feel something of his simplicity of manner and a bit of his method of speech. Her address was one easy to follow, yet very difficult to reproduce, as many a delegate felt as she thought of what she could take to her club. All there rejoiced that the Federation possessed so able a leader to represent them upon the advisory council of the Conference.

The Brightelmstone Club is to be congratulated upon the careful way in which it attended to all the little details that mean so much in the successful outcome of a Federation meeting. In spite of the storm the theatre was crowded beyond its limits, with many standing during the afternoon, all of which goes to substantiate the assertion of the Club Editor last year, that the time has come for this mid-winter meeting to be held in some centrally located auditorium with ample seating capacity, such as Tremont Temple. Had the day been propitious many more would have been turned away than were last week. The day of small things has passed, petty economies and the depending upon the bounty of hostess clubs. The Federation's first legitimate expenditure is to provide for adequate accommodations for this mid-winter meeting, for now that women, too, are citizens, there is going to be increasing interest in this legislative session and it is their right to be able to attend in comfort.

Local Happenings

Last Monday afternoon, at a meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, Mrs. Frederick G. Marsh gave a report of the Newton Federation meeting, and Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, one of the State Federation. After the business session a very interesting lecture on "The Personality of Mountains," illustrated by lantern slides, was given by Miss Elizabeth F. Fisher, professor of geology and geography at Wellesley College. A social hour followed and tea was served. Mrs. Benjamin H. Codman, Mrs. Albion L. Richards and Mrs. Bruce Wyman were the hostesses of the afternoon.

The regular meeting of the Review Club of Auburndale for this week was held Tuesday morning, February 21, at the home of Mrs. Braithwaite on Central street. During the business meeting Miss Crane of the Mass. Civic League spoke first of the general work of the club, and then, with great force, about the matter of state control of penal institutions, urging all present to do all in their power to help the passing of such legislation.

The morning's program was the study of the West Indies. Mrs. Pickard's talk on "Dominica and the Barbadoes," the latter island brought vividly before us by account of her personal experience. Mrs. Edward Payson Drew had the subject of "Trinidad and Jamaica," and here again personal knowledge made things vivid, as Mrs. Gore, a former member of the club, who had spent a winter in Jamaica, prepared that part of the paper in the form of a narrative. Mrs. Wells, the third speaker of the morning, having been called from town, was unable to present her subject, so Mrs. Knapp finished a paper left incomplete at another meeting, telling of the tragedy of St. Helena.

Monday evening the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls held its Presidents' Night in the Emerson School hall, and those who accepted the invitation of the club found it a very pleasant affair. There was violin music by Miss Irene Forte of the West Newton Music School, and an address by Mrs. F. B. Sanborn of Cambridge, entitled "In a Queen's Garden." Refreshments were served.

Guest Night was observed by the Newtonville Woman's Club Tuesday evening, which proved a very delightful and successful occasion. A trio, consisting of violin, cello and piano, rendered several selections most acceptably, while all present enjoyed the address by Miss Mary Boyle O'Reilly, on "A World to Mend," in which she gave her impressions of conditions today as she has seen them on a recent tour abroad, and her idea of their solution. Refreshments were served afterward during the social hour.

Mid-Winter Meeting of State Federation

Once again the weather man did his worst for the Federation, only snow is easier to combat than ice, so that the delegates were able to reach the Allston Theatre, where the sessions were held, with only a little delay on Thursday of last week, and this Mid-winter meeting went off as scheduled, and under very favorable auspices. Every detail for the comfort of its guests was provided by the Brightelmstone Club, the hostess for the occasion.

The meeting opened according to custom with a speech of welcome by the hostess president, Mrs. William J. McDonald, who stated that their own club received its name for the original name of Brighton, England, which was called Brightelmstone, from Brightelm, an Anglo-Saxon bishop of the tenth century. Mrs. McDonald told a little of the early history of this district of Boston, originally a part of Cambridge, later a town by itself, and in 1874, annexed to Boston.

The presence of His Excellency, Governor Cox, who extended the official welcome, lent additional interest to the meeting. Governor Cox, after acknowledgment of the power of such an organization as the Federation, turned to a consideration of the financial affairs of the Commonwealth, saying that we must be sure we are getting a dollar's worth of value for every dollar expended, and that the only way to stop an increase of taxes, is to stop spending money, therefore he had urged the utmost economy in the administration of affairs since he had become the governor.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, General Federation president, also brought greetings, but reserved her formal address until the appointed time at the afternoon session.

Mrs. George Minot Baker, State president, in her response to the welcome, referred to its being the Legislative session and quoted Vice-President Calvin Coolidge, who has said: "Men do not make laws, they do but discover them. Laws must be justified by something more than the will of the majority, they must rest on the eternal foundations of righteousness."

The morning session was then put in the hands of Mrs. Charles Leslie May, chairman of the Legislative department, who told how the measures to be presented, had been considered both by clubs and the conferences of delegates from the clubs, some fifty and more such meetings having been held for the purpose.

Frank L. Brier, House chairman joint committee on County Government, spoke on behalf of Senate bill 280, for State Control of Penal Institutions, saying that more than 40 per cent of the prisoners today are in county institutions "loading in idleness" with no uniformity as to discipline. Every state of the Union west of New England, except Pennsylvania, has done something toward unifying its penal system, and it is time that Massachusetts fell into line. Earl P. Blake, sheriff of Plymouth County, spoke on the opposite side. He calls this measure just an entering wedge towards the obliteration of county government, and the doing away with local self-government. "When you abolish the county, you strike a tremendous blow at democratic government." He did not believe the State would classify their prisoners, because they have not done it, and because they can't. After a brief allowance for questions the measure was endorsed by a vote of 356 to 80.

The acceptance of the Shepard-Towner Maternity bill came in for the most discussion and opposition. Dr. Merrill E. Champion, of the State Department of Health, spoke in favor and it was opposed by Mrs. Henry Preston White, who considered the original law as socialistic, paternalistic, and undemocratic.

Dr. Champion speaking of the results of the acceptance, offered the following program as representing the line of development which will probably result from the acceptance of this Act in Massachusetts.

"In regard to education; extension of the prenatal and postnatal letter service now offered by the State Department of Public Health; classes for expectant mothers; advertising to mothers the need of medical supervision in pregnancy; literature on breast feeding and similar subjects for physicians and nurses; stimulation of better birth registration.

"Investigational. Study of all maternal and early infant deaths through physicians working in the field and through analyses of death certificates; study of the efficacy of methods of prevention of mortality and sickness now in use throughout the State.

Upon being put to vote a rising vote was called for, which resulted in the endorsement by 211 to 189. This vote was doubted and a careful count having already been taken, the chair ruled any further counting to be out of order, and the chair was sustained.

In the absence of Sanford Bates, commissioner of correction, Mrs. Mary presented the bill for a new State's Prison, and the measure was endorsed there being some opposition when the vote was taken, evidently from the same faction which had been disgruntled upon the previous measure.

Mrs. George R. Fearing, Jr., spoke on behalf of the Federal bill known as the Curtis bill, for the citizenship of married women. This was endorsed.

Mrs. Ella A. Gleason, president of the State W. C. T. U., made an eloquent plea for the passage of the Prohibition Enforcement Code, and this matter was endorsed unanimously.

During the intermission luncheon was served in four nearby churches, while many others availed themselves of the local lunch rooms, and the executive board and guests were entertained at the home of the hostess president, which was close at hand.

The afternoon session opened with a program of music by the Choral Class of the hostess club, and included numbers by the chorus and a group of trios, all of which were well rendered.

The delegates then listened with keenest interest to the address on the Washington Conference by Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, who was one of the four women members of the Advisory Council to the American delegation. She pictured the hall, the floor having been leveled with a table around a hollow square at which sat the official delegates, and the galleries filled with visitors, and how they went wild when Secretary Hughes within one half-hour after the opening set forth his proposals. Coloring her whole address with the lighter, intimate touches Mrs. Winter held her audience closely for fully one hour and they would have gladly listened longer.

She said in part:—
"The Washington Arms Conference laid out for itself a definite, a concrete, a limited task. It did not undertake to abolish war, but only to abolish the next war, and by taking this tremendous step out from under the horror that brooded over the world, to swing us into that long path that leads toward ultimate and universal peace. One has only to look at the map of the Pacific that I am showing you, with its interlocking mandates and spheres of influence to see that this in itself is a demonstration of the fact that here is a fertile field for misunderstandings, antagonisms and mutually incompatible ambitions. The government of the United States recognized that, so far as we were concerned, the next great menace of war lay therein the Far East. The purposes of the Conference were, then twofold, first to minimize the hatred and sources of conflict, and second, to lessen the economic and military burdens entailed by that threat of war. It laid down definite agenda. Its records show that, with one exception, those agenda have been covered, and that exception had to be made in deference to the will of one of two powers. It is evident that such a conference has not the free scope of a legislative body. If one nation objects to a course of action, that action has to be abandoned. It is not a case of majority rule. No group of nations could compel another to swing into line. Unanimity is the basis of all agreements.

"The common denominator mind must be found."

"The Conference did many things. One of the most distinguished of our foreign guests said that any one of them would have justified its assembling. The Stabilizing of Far East conditions, the 'Open Door,' the pledges given of decent and just methods of international dealings, the scrapping of 68 great battleships, the ten years' naval holiday, the holding of submarines down to legitimate usages, the outlawing of poison gas, the abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty with its covert threat against the United States—these are among the outstanding achievements. When before did a conference do so much? More subtle, but more significant was the steadily developing openness of mind, the approach toward each other of these peoples whose outlooks are as far as the east is from the west. When before was 'war talked in terms of peace?' The generous and magnanimous temper that pervaded the discussions was a greater achievement than the scrapping of ships. Guns and gas are symbols of international hatred. When hatred disappears, they will disappear. As long as hatred remains, men will find the means of vengeance, no matter what words and treaties say. In other words, far more important than any definite thing done was the spirit in which it was done.

"The sub-committee on General Information of the Advisory Committee classified and grouped nearly fourteen million opinions expressed in resolutions and letters, and it took several hundred newspapers a day in its effort to get at the things America was thinking concerning Conference affairs. These were daily boiled down in a little communique which went to every member of the American Delegation. The growth of international understanding in the United States was marked. Now that the Conference is at an end, the chief function of us women must be to develop that international understanding. We must strengthen our comprehension of other peoples and our friendly relations, one with another. We must insist that this conference is but the introduction to another and yet another, to settle more and more of our world difficulties like human beings, and not like wild beasts.

"The General Federation has created a special committee on International Relations for this purpose and is intending to 'play up' the problems of bringing the peoples of the earth nearer to each other at the next Biennial meeting in June at Chautauqua. This committee will have on it women of various nations, Mrs. Horace Mann Towner is its chairman. It is preparing a study program on international law; the relations of the United States to various nations, European, Asiatic, South American; the Woman movement in all parts of the world and the share of women in working for understanding; and finally, the efforts towards world peace in treaty-making, in Hague Conferences, in Leagues and in the present conference."

At the Lecture Hall of the Boston Public Library on Thursday, March 2, 8 P. M., Frederick Parsons of Waban will repeat his lecture on the Gothic Cathedrals of France. The collection of 150 photographic slides, colored by the lecturer, is of unusual beauty and rarity and the subject opens with an airplane journey from London to Paris. No tickets or reserved seats. Boylston street entrance. Doors open two hours before lecture.

"DEMOCRACY IN EDUCATION"

The speaker for the popular Newtonville Community Forum meeting on Sunday, March 12th, is to be Professor Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University.

Professor Sharp's writings and speeches in behalf of public schools are well known and an opportunity to hear him surely will not be overlooked.

Professor Sharp's address will be "Democracy in Education." Free discussion will be in order at the end of the address and special music will be furnished by the orchestra of the Technical High School. The public is cordially invited to attend these open forums.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRISON

Agnes Adele Harrison, wife of Mr. Charles Lewis Harrison, died at her residence, 14 Eliot Memorial road, Newton, on Saturday, February 18th, after a short illness. She was born in Kirtland, Ohio, the daughter of David I. and Helen M. Traver.

When she was a young woman the profession of nursing was in its infancy and the object of much opposition. Appreciating its importance to humanity, she secured a waiver of the rules against admitting one so young, and took the training at the Bellevue Training School for Nurses in New York City, and fitted herself for organizing training schools in other hospitals. From there she went to Indianapolis, where she organized such a school in the hospital and remained until it was well established. She was called to a similar work in Norwich, Conn., but about this time was married to Mr. Harrison of that city.

Mrs. Harrison travelled extensively, both abroad and in this country, making one voyage around the world. During the World War she was an active worker, being especially interested in the French Relief. She was a member of Grace Episcopal Church in Newton and took an active and helpful interest in everything that concerned her church.

Mrs. Harrison's beautiful garden was well known to all flower lovers in Newton and vicinity and her interest in gardening made her give generously of her many rare plants so that others might enjoy them with her. Her loyalty and devotion to her family and friends will make her loss deeply felt.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her mother, a brother, and three sisters.

The funeral services were held at her residence Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Laurens MacLure, her rector, officiating. The music consisted of selections by Dr. James H. Townsend. The bearers were the following neighbors and friends: Carl K. Bacon, Charles H. Barney, David B. Crockett, Frank Edwards, Welles E. Holmes and Frank I. Peckham.

DEATH OF MR. THOMAS

John H. Thomas, for more than 50 years a resident of Newton, died in his home on Madison avenue, Newtonville, last Sunday, after a short illness. Mr. Thomas was in his 76th year, and until recently had been in the gardening and landscape business in this city.

Four sons and one daughter survive: William H. Thomas of Watertown, Rev. Francis L. Thomas of Roxbury, John J. Thomas of Lowell, George Thomas of Newtonville, and Mrs. Mary Bannan of Dorchester. Mr. Thomas was a member of Middlesex Court, M. C. F. E. Lodge, and also of the Holy Name Society.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning. A solemn high mass of requiem was said at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, the celebrant being a son of the deceased, Rev. Francis Thomas of St. John's Church, Roxbury. Rev. Conrad J. Quirk was deacon, Rev. Robert Mantle, sub-deacon, and Rev. Walter Roche, master of ceremonies. More than 30 priests sat within the sanctuary, and among the others present were Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton, George E. Stewart, Judge Joseph J. Sheehan, Joseph J. Forrester, high secretary of the M. C. F. E. Thomas Haley, high chief ranger, and James O'Leary, high vice-chief ranger. A delegation from the Newton Lodge of Elks was present.

Committal services at the grave in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline, were read by Rev. Dr. Patrick G. Supple, rector of St. John's Church, Roxbury. Rev. John J. McMahon, Rev. John J. McMahon, Rev. David Waters, Rev. James Grimes and Rev. John Power.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

On Monday afternoon, February 20th, the West Newton W. C. T. U. presented to the Pierce School a beautiful portrait of Frances E. Willard. This portrait was painted by the late Darius Cobb of Newton Highlands, and was given to the late Mrs. Nellie B. Rand of West Newton, who was always an active worker in the temperance cause.

The children of the school, numbering about five hundred, assembled in the school hall. The occasion was opened by singing "America," after which Mr. Scarborough, master of the school, gave an address of welcome. He then introduced Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, who told the children briefly of the work of the W. C. T. U., and then introduced Mrs. Emma H. Howland, who gave a very stirring address about the life of Frances E. Willard, and presented the picture to this school.

The picture is a work of art and will hang in the school hall. After giving the salute to the flag and singing "Star Spangled Banner," the children returned to their school rooms, and it was hoped they will never forget the work this wonderful woman has done.

WEST NEWTON W.C.T.U.

The West Newton W.C.T.U. held its regular meeting, Monday evening, Feb. 20th, at the home of Mrs. Jennie Derry, Higgins street, Auburndale, with Mrs. Derry and Mrs. Jessie Clark as hostesses.

The regular business was transacted and this was followed with a most interesting talk by Mrs. Emma H. Howland one of our state lecturers. The speaker has travelled extensively in the interest of the temperance cause having visited many European countries.

She told many of her experiences, some of which were very thrilling, but all along the line she gave to her hearers much encouragement in our great work, and says "Prohibition is in the Constitution to stay."

The president, Mrs. Beardsley, had the pleasure of welcoming ten new members into the union and after a most enjoyable social hour with refreshments the members departed all voicing the fact that it had been a very profitable evening.
